Mercury Drops; Roads Are Slick

Nebraska Thursday morning braced for the wintry blast that moved into the state from Wyoming bringing snow, rain, wind and the promise of a statewide blizzard.

Early Thursday morning it was either raining or snowing over most of the state, with Lincoln getting thunder, lightning and rain.

The snow portion of the menu was served in the western part of the state where the temperature dipped well below the freezing mark on the thermometer. Early Thursday Sidney's reading stood at 25 and Scottsbluff reported 26.

Lincoln's rainfall early Thursday registered .15 of an inch. Wednesday night the mercury took a sudden drop, from 64 to 50—14 degrees—between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m.

The storm, which followed 70 degree temperatures in the east Wednesday, is scheduled to bring snow over the state Thursday, continuing in the east to Friday.

Blizzard conditions are forecast for the west and central Thursday and in the east Thursday night and Friday. It will be decidedly colder in the east and south Thursday with strong winds from the north, ranging from 35 to 45 miles per hour.

The second general snow of the season began falling Wednesday afternoon at Scottsbluff, Chadron and Crawford and continued during the night. The early snow was light, with variable winds.

Precipitation Light

Precipitation over the state was apparently light. The Burlington dispatcher reported early Thursday that Fremont was getting light rain. Other points on the CB&Q line reported no moisture, but all reported brisk north, northwest winds. These towns included Hastings, Aurora, Ravenna, York and Ashland.

Elsewhere Lexington recorded .12 of an inch of precipitation Wednesday; Chadron .02; Scottsbluff .01; and the following towns a trace: Imperial, Omaha, Sidney and Valentine.

At midnight, according to the United Air Lines office in Lincoln, the snow had moved as far east as Lexington.

As the icy weather moved into the state, highway conditions were rapidly deteriorating.

The Safety Patrol reported Wednesday night that highways west of Sidney were hazardous, with sleet and snow falling. Highway 26 east from Scottsbluff was icy and becoming hazardous with light snow and some blowing snow.

The Alliance, Chadron and Rushville area had substantially the same report, light snow, roads becoming icy and hazardous, and visibility poor.

Temperatures Thursday are expected to drop to 20 in the northwest and to around 50 in the extreme southeast and to remain at about that level throughout the day.

—'Big Jim' Put 'On The Air'—

Navy Radio Signal Heard Around World

Secrecy Lifted From Newest Atomic-Age Defense Device

By ROBERT G. NIXON

JIM CREEK, Wash. (INS)—The U.S. Navy girdled the globe by radio operationally Wednesday for the first time in history.

A message was sent crackling through the ether to the earth's farthest reaches as the Navy lifted secrecy from its newest atomic-age defense device—the world's most powerful radio transmitter.

Within six minutes after the message boomed around the earth from the "Big Jim" voice in the Pacific Northwest at 11:52 a.m. PST, acknowledgements pounded back from U.S. fleet units and defense installations from the Sea of Japan to the polar regions.

The battleship Wisconsin responded with a message of "Excellent reception" from Japanese waters.

The submarine Sablefish, on patrol in the icy Northeast Atlantic, received the message submerged.

The Sixth U.S. Fleet in the Mediterranean and U. S. installations afloat and ashore, reported the 1,200,000 watt radio voice had spoken and been heard literally around the world.

The signal was sent out to open a new chapter in electronics history as the Navy took the secrecy wraps off the world's most powerful transmitter.

Newest Contributions

The new communications device is one of the Navy's newest contributions to the wall of defense being built against a possible future sneak attack against the continental U. S.

Navy technicians said the 1,200,000 watt transmitter will enable the Navy high command to communicate instantly henceforth with U. S. surface, undersea, or air units at any point in the world.

The radio is so powerful that its signals can break through any natural interference or man-made "jamming" device with clear, sustained signals anywhere in the world.

Heretofore, the reception of such radio messages over long distances has been uncertain and subject to delays because of interference from magnetic storms, sunspots and other natural phenomena.

The Navy said that with its "Big Jim" voice, it can reach anywhere on, above, or under the world's seven seas to alert U. S. defense units instantly in case of threatened or actual attack on the U. S.

The gigantic transmitter was six years in building at the Camden, N. J., plant of the Radio Corporation of America, and at the Jim Creek site. It was put "on the air" officially Wednesday from its location in the fastnesses of the Cascade Mountains 55 miles northeast of Seattle.

Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of RCA, tapped out the first message on an oldtime wireless telegraph key as it was dictated to him by Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of Naval operations.

Many Misconceptions Of U.S. Abroad, NU Student Reveals

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

One of the satisfactions of living with persons in other countries, sharing their homes and their work, is the task of dispelling popular misconceptions about Americans abroad.

This was reported by Roger Richards, 22-year-old College of Agriculture senior from Orleans, who has just returned from a year in Sweden under the auspices of the International Farm Youth Exchange.

All Millionaires

Richards reported that the Swedes with whom he lived and worked, believed almost without exception that being an American means being a millionaire.

"They think that everyone in this country has nothing to do but go to cocktail parties, and buy automobiles for each one of their children. Apparently they believe this wealth occurs by some miracle because they don't think we work hard like everyone else."

Richards, however, added that this impression of American life has come about more through U.S. movies shown in Sweden than as a result of Communist propaganda. Communists, according to Richards, aren't taken very seriously in Sweden. The Communists are swamped by the overwhelming feeling of good will toward the United States.

The Swedes, the young student pointed out, anxiously employ every agricultural advance they learn about from this country.

ROGER RICHARDS

An example of this is the great deal of prestige associated with membership in 4-H clubs in Sweden. The Swedish 4-H club program, he said, was imported bodily from the United States and is having a growing popularity there today.

Richards traveled as far north as the Arctic Circle and came to know Swedes in all parts of the country. The International Farm Youth Exchange is an organization supported by private funds and sponsors visits abroad for persons of all educational backgrounds.

Wicks Quits Lt. Gov. Post In New York

Quarrel With Dewey On Pen Visits Ends

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Acting Lt. Gov Arthur H. Wicks resigned his leadership of the New York Senate Wednesday as a sequel to his visits to labor extortionist Joseph S. Fay in Sing Sing Prison.

The resignation of Wicks, demanded by his fellow Republican, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, is effective Thursday. It ends a roaring quarrel between Wicks and Dewey that shook their party violently.

Soon after Wicks announced his resignation, Dewey issued this statement:

"On Oct. 12 I met with Sen. Wicks on the subject of his visits to Joseph Fay in Sing Sing Prison. At the end of the discussion I asked Sen. Wicks to resign as majority leader and temporary president of the Senate. He has now done so, and the resignation speaks for itself."

Arthur Wicks

The 65-year-old Wicks, a veteran of 27 years in the Senate, asked why he resigned, said "One reason is that I'm taking a much-needed vacation," and did not want the responsibilities of the leadership "marring that vacation."'

He made it plain that he was not resigning his Senate seat. He represents a Hudson River Valley District.

In a formal statement, Wicks claimed complete vindication. He said:

"The refusal of my fellow senators to request my resignation or to take any other action against me completely vindicates me. The manly fashion in which the Senate resisted pressures from every quarter is a tribute to the soundness of the principle of the separation of executive and legislative powers."

Wicks' troubles began Oct. 2, the day after he was sworn in as acting lieutenant governor to succeed Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore, resigned. Wicks stepped up by virtue of his post as temporary president of the Senate.

On that date it was disclosed that Wicks had made several visits to Fay at Sing Sing.

Wicks said he had sought Fay's influence in settling jurisdictional disputes in his senatorial district in the Hudson Valley. He said he considered Fay a union power, even behind bars, and denied that the visits constituted improper conduct.

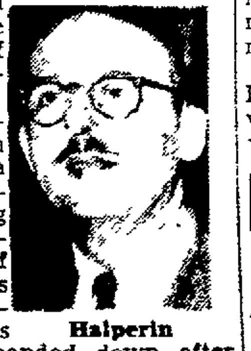
French Communist artist Andre Fougerson threw in everything but the kitchen sink in this anti-American and anti-West painting, one of several such propaganda canvases exhibited by Red painters in the current Paris Autumn Salon. Titled "Atlantic Civilization," the canvas is dominated by a Nazi-like trooper firing from a shiny American automobile. Sordid living conditions, downtrodden North Africans, a tragic Indochina mother and other propaganda touches complete the painting. Despite the party line, a leader of intellectual French Reds termed the canvas "ill-considered, coarse and scornful." (AP Wirephoto Wednesday Night.)

Boston U Suspends Prof. Halperin, Tagged A One-Time Red By FBI

BOSTON (AP)—Boston University Wednesday suspended Prof. Maurice Halperin, who was identified in an FBI report read before a congressional committee Tuesday as a one-time member of Soviet espionage ring.



Halperin

The university decision reverses a previous ruling retaining the 47-year-old head of the school's Latin American Studies department handed down after he refused to answer questions before the Senate (Jenner) Internal Security Subcommittee.

U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, testifying before the same committee in Washington Tuesday, read the FBI report naming Halperin as one of those who "were participants in this (spy) operation or were utilized by principals in this ring for the purpose of obtaining data in which the Soviet is interested."

To Restudy Case

University President Harold C. Case said the FBI letter read by Brownell—once classified top secret—was not available to the school committees or trustees on June 29 when Halperin was retained.

The suspension became effective at noon Wednesday and a university spokesman said it will continue until the school committees have a chance to "restudy" the case for decision by the trustees.

Halperin was not available for comment.

Brownell, reading from an FBI report made in 1945 to the White House, identified Halperin as an official of the Office of Strategic Services at the time he was reportedly involved in spy operations.

Named in the FBI letter as participants with Halperin were Harry Dexter White, Dr. Gregory Silvermaster, George Silverman, Laughlin Currie, Victor Perlow and others, all former government officials.

Halperin, in an appearance before the Jenner committee in Boston last March, declined to say if he had ever been a member of the Communist Party. The refusal was made under the protection against incrimination offered by the Fifth Amendment.

He also refused to answer when asked if he knew Silvermaster, Currie, Silverman, Perlow and others listed by the FBI report as participants in the spy ring.

He is a graduate of Boston Latin school and Harvard University. He obtained a master's degree from the University of Oklahoma and a doctoratte from the University of Paris.

During World War II, he headed the Latin-American division of the Office of Strategic Services and later was transferred to the State Department's research and intelligence branch.

He is married and the father of two children.

Ex-Sen. Adams Defends Ag Prof Clyde Mitchell

Thomas H. Adams, Lincoln attorney, Farm Bureau member, and former state senator, says the Hall County Farm Bureau members who have complained to the University of Nebraska Board of Regents about the actions of Prof. C. Clyde Mitchell "do not represent much of the thinking of the members in the state at large."

In a letter sent to Regents Robert W. Devoe and C. Y. Thompson and Dean W. V. Lambert, Adams says that Prof. Mitchell, chairman of the agricultural economics department of the University of Nebraska. "is a good deal better informed on what is going on in the agricultural world than most of the Farm Bureau members."

Sympathetic Attitude

Adams said that as he is a member of the Farm Bureau himself, he has been interested in the controversy and has tried to have a sympathetic attitude to the Farm Bureau members.

Adams pointed out in his letter that the overwhelming vote by farmers for wheat acreage controls shows that "most of the farmers have been heartily in agreement with these controls and support prices." He added that "it is quite convincing that the agricultural program must have attached to it some controls and price supports to take care of surpluses and shortages of grain."

In describing Prof. Mitchell as a "top-notch, up-to-date instructor and leader in agricultural economics," the former senator stated. "If a man of Mitchell's caliber can't give his viewpoints to the farmers in our state, then we are just asking for a program to keep our farm population ignorant."

Regents Commended

Adams also suggests that the Board of Regents should be commended for hiring and keeping on the faculty a man with the courage and vision of Prof. Mitchell. "Too many university professors become useless because the only thing they know is what they have read in a book some 20 years ago when they went to school. However, Prof. C. Clyde Mitchell is keeping up with present-day conditions and only forecasting what he sees on the horizon." Adams added.

Pointing out that no farmer is compelled to follow Mitchell's suggestions, Adams said, "Nothing should be done by the Board of Regents to stifle new thinking or hinder the people of Nebraska from knowing the viewpoint of our best agricultural leaders."

Plane Is Down Off Midway

HONOLULU (INS) — A twin engine Navy PBY Catalina flying boat, caught in the teeth of a Pacific storm with its gas supply exhausted, went down Wednesday in the churning sea off Midway Island and seven men aboard escaped on a life-raft.

The merchant freighter Western Ocean, only 22 miles away, intercepted the plane's SOS and swung about to the area where the PBY hit the sea 130 miles north of Midway.

But four hours after the forced landing the ship had failed to find the survivors and a Navy spokesman said the vessel apparently was hampered by swells five to seven feet high, making it difficult to sight a raft.

Search and rescue controllers at Pearl Harbor were trying to plot the exact position of two planes circling the raft in an attempt to lead the freighter to the site by radio.

A message from the Catalina's base in Alaska confirmed that seven men were aboard.

4-Day Fire In Corn Bin May Be Stopped Soon

CHENEY, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Thursday may see the end of the smoldering fire which has been eating its way since Saturday through 32,000 bushels of federal corn stored in a quonset bin at the edge of Cheney.

Richard Lefferdink, Lancaster County PMA chairman, said that workers removing the $48,000 in corn will be able to "get behind the fire Thursday." The fire is burning along the surface of a ventilation tunnel running the length of the bin's floor.

Even though the Lincoln Fire Department has made four runs to the fire so far, they can only extinguish the fire where it is exposed by removal of the corn burying the embers.

"The fire," Lefferdink said, "started from the front of the tunnel and keeps working farther and farther back down the tunnel."

He estimated that the loss would not be too great because the fire only burns a few inches from the tunnel into the stored corn before it goes out. The fire, Lefferdink said, seems "to boil the corn into a black goo which suffocates the blaze and forces the fire to move on down the ventilator."

The cause of the fire is not known but Lefferdink said that he thought it "had something to do with the fumigation of the bin."

Four Trips And It's Still Burning

Buck, Two Does Visit Robinson Farm Near Here

Unexpected callers paid an early-morning visit to the W. C. Robinson farm Wednesday.

Robinson, who farms eight miles southwest of Lincoln, reported a buck and two does came within "about 40 rods" of his house shortly after the sun put in an appearance.

"They were really big—as tall as our cows," Robinson said.

He estimated the buck "had an antler spread of 30 inches."

"They were in sight of the capitol when I saw them," Robinson related, "and they headed for Lincoln."

Response Of CIO Is Polite

Minimum Wage Increase Is Proposed

CLEVELAND (AP) — President Eisenhower's new secretary of labor, James P. Mitchell, told the CIO Wednesday the administration is striving to expand the nation's minimum wage law and to strip the Taft-Hartley Law of features "really dangerous to labor."

In his first major speech since taking the cabinet post six weeks ago, Mitchell appealed to the CIO convention for labor co-operation with the Republican administration and said labor problems are "too big, too important, to be treated as a political football."

Mitchell received a standing ovation before he spoke, but politely cool applause after he finished. He told newsmen later he was "very happily pleased and gratified" at his reception. CIO President Walter Reuther promised Mitchell "friendly" aid in drafting Taft-Hartley law changes.

"There is no disposition in this administration," Mitchell said, "to turn back the clock, nor to recall the old days when American labor was cowed, exploited and unorganized.

"On the contrary. There is keen recognition that the national policy to encourage collective bargaining between employees and employers is sound policy, accepted and encouraged by an overwhelming majority of our citizens."

Against Full Repeal

But Mitchell advised organized labor to quit demanding outright repeal of the controversial Taft-Hartley Law, and recognize that it has "sound, fair and just" provisions.

"We will then jointly concentrate on those features of the act which are really dangerous to labor, really loaded, really unfair," he said. "I am for the removal of those unfair features. The President is for their removal. I think a majority of the Congress will be for their removal."

The labor secretary said the present 75-cent-hourly minimum wage required by federal law for certain workers is too low and the level should be raised and applied to far more of the nation's 63 million workers. He said the 75-cent minimum applies now to only 22 million.

Dulles Speaks

Another Eisenhower cabinet member, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, told the convention that Russia has refused to talk over European problems with the free world because of fear of losing control over peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

He said his stand on Taft-Hartley is to oppose changes that would: Leave the government powerless to deal with national emergency strikes, make it easier for Communists or racketeers to control unions, encourage union irresponsibility, let employees escape a duty to bargain, undermine labor organizations.

Dulles Speaks

Another Eisenhower cabinet member, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, told the convention that Russia has refused to talk over European problems with the free world because of fear of losing control over peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

He said his stand on Taft-Hartley is to oppose changes that would: Leave the government powerless to deal with national emergency strikes, make it easier for Communists or racketeers to control unions, encourage union irresponsibility, let employees escape a duty to bargain, undermine labor organizations.

Boston U Suspends Prof. Halperin, Tagged A One-Time Red By FBI

BOSTON (AP)—Boston University Wednesday suspended Prof. Maurice Halperin, who was identified in an FBI report read before a congressional committee Tuesday as a one-time member of Soviet espionage ring.

Halperin

The university decision reverses a previous ruling retaining the 47-year-old head of the school's Latin American Studies department handed down after he refused to answer questions before the Senate (Jenner) Internal Security Subcommittee.

U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, testifying before the same committee in Washington Tuesday, read the FBI report naming Halperin as one of those who "were participants in this (spy) operation or were utilized by principals in this ring for the purpose of obtaining data in which the Soviet is interested."

To Restudy Case

University President Harold C. Case said the FBI letter read by Brownell—once classified top secret—was not available to the school committees or trustees on June 29 when Halperin was retained.

The suspension became effective at noon Wednesday and a university spokesman said it will continue until the school committees have a chance to "restudy" the case for decision by the trustees.

Halperin was not available for comment.

Brownell, reading from an FBI report made in 1945 to the White House, identified Halperin as an official of the Office of Strategic Services at the time he was reportedly involved in spy operations.

Named in the FBI letter as participants with Halperin were Harry Dexter White, Dr. Gregory Silvermaster, George Silverman, Laughlin Currie, Victor Perlow and others, all former government officials.

Halperin, in an appearance before the Jenner committee in Boston last March, declined to say if he had ever been a member of the Communist Party. The refusal was made under the protection against incrimination offered by the Fifth Amendment.

He also refused to answer when asked if he knew Silvermaster, Currie, Silverman, Perlow and others listed by the FBI report as participants in the spy ring.

He is a graduate of Boston Latin school and Harvard University. He obtained a master's degree from the University of Oklahoma and a doctoratte from the University of Paris.

During World War II, he headed the Latin-American division of the Office of Strategic Services and later was transferred to the State Department's research and intelligence branch.

He is married and the father of two children.

Ex-Sen. Adams Defends Ag Prof Clyde Mitchell

Thomas H. Adams, Lincoln attorney, Farm Bureau member, and former state senator, says the Hall County Farm Bureau members who have complained to the University of Nebraska Board of Regents about the actions of Prof. C. Clyde Mitchell "do not represent much of the thinking of the members in the state at large."

In a letter sent to Regents Robert W. Devoe and C. Y. Thompson and Dean W. V. Lambert, Adams says that Prof. Mitchell, chairman of the agricultural economics department of the University of Nebraska, "is a good deal better informed on what is going on in the agricultural world than most of the Farm Bureau members."

Sympathetic Attitude

Adams said that as he is a member of the Farm Bureau himself, he has been interested in the controversy and has tried to have a sympathetic attitude to the Farm Bureau members.

Adams pointed out in his letter that the overwhelming vote by farmers for wheat acreage controls shows that "most of the farmers have been heartily in agreement with these controls and support prices." He added that "it is quite convincing that the agricultural program must have attached to it some controls and price supports to take care of surpluses and shortages of grain."

In describing Prof. Mitchell as a "top-notch, up-to-date instructor and leader in agricultural economics," the former senator stated, "If a man of Mitchell's caliber can't give his viewpoints to the farmers in our state, then we are just asking for a program to keep our farm population ignorant."

Regents Commended

Adams also suggests that the Board of Regents should be commended for hiring and keeping on the faculty a man with the courage and vision of Prof. Mitchell. "Too many university professors become useless because the only thing they know is what they have read in a book some 20 years ago when they went to school. However, Prof. C. Clyde Mitchell is keeping up with present-day conditions and only forecasting what he sees on the horizon," Adams added.

Pointing out that no farmer is compelled to follow Mitchell's suggestions, Adams said, "Nothing should be done by the Board of Regents to stifle new thinking or hinder the people of Nebraska from knowing the viewpoint of our best agricultural leaders."

Plane Is Down Off Midway

HONOLULU (INS) — A twin engine Navy PBY Catalina flying boat, caught in the teeth of a Pacific storm with its gas supply exhausted, went down Wednesday in the churning sea off Midway Island and seven men aboard escaped on a life-raft.

The merchant freighter Western Ocean, only 22 miles away, intercepted the plane's SOS and swung about to the area where the PBY hit the sea 130 miles north of Midway.

But four hours after the forced landing the ship had failed to find the survivors and a Navy spokesman said the vessel apparently was hampered by swells five to seven feet high, making it difficult to sight a raft.

Search and rescue controllers at Pearl Harbor were trying to plot the exact position of two planes circling the raft in an attempt to lead the freighter to the site by radio.

A message from the Catalina's base in Alaska confirmed that seven men were aboard.

Navy Radio Signal Heard Around World

Secrecy Lifted From Newest Atomic-Age Defense Device

By ROBERT G. NIXON

JIM CREEK, Wash. (INS)—The U.S. Navy girdled the globe by radio operationally Wednesday for the first time in history.

A message was sent crackling through the ether to the earth's farthest reaches as the Navy lifted secrecy from its newest atomic-age defense device—the world's most powerful radio transmitter.

Within six minutes after the message boomed around the earth from the "Big Jim" voice in the Pacific Northwest at 11:52 a.m. PST, acknowledgements pounded back from U.S. fleet units and defense installations from the Sea of Japan to the polar regions.

The battleship Wisconsin responded with a message of "Excellent reception" from Japanese waters.

The submarine Sablefish, on patrol in the icy Northeast Atlantic, received the message submerged.

The Sixth U.S. Fleet in the Mediterranean and U. S. installations afloat and ashore, reported the 1,200,000 watt radio voice had spoken and been heard literally around the world.

The signal was sent out to open a new chapter in electronics history as the Navy took the secrecy wraps off the world's most powerful transmitter.

Newest Contributions

The new communications device is one of the Navy's newest contributions to the wall of defense being built against a possible future sneak attack against the continental U. S.

Navy technicians said the 1,200,000 watt transmitter will enable the Navy high command to communicate instantly henceforth with U. S. surface, undersea, or air units at any point in the world.

The radio is so powerful that its signals can break through any natural interference or man-made "jamming" device with clear, sustained signals anywhere in the world.

Heretofore, the reception of such radio messages over long distances has been uncertain and subject to delays because of interference from magnetic storms, sunspots and other natural phenomena.

The Navy said that with its "Big Jim" voice, it can reach anywhere on, above, or under the world's seven seas to alert U. S. defense units instantly in case of threatened or actual attack on the U. S.

The gigantic transmitter was six years in building at the Camden, N. J., plant of the Radio Corporation of America, and at the Jim Creek site. It was put "on the air" officially Wednesday from its location in the fastnesses of the Cascade Mountains 55 miles northeast of Seattle.

Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of RCA, tapped out the first message on an oldtime wireless telegraph key as it was dictated to him by Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of Naval operations.

Many Misconceptions Of U.S. Abroad, NU Student Reveals

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

One of the satisfactions of living with persons in other countries, sharing their homes and their work, is the task of dispelling popular misconceptions about Americans abroad.

This was reported by Roger Richards, 22-year-old College of Agriculture senior from Orleans, who has just returned from a year in Sweden under the auspices of the International Farm Youth Exchange.

All Millionaires

Richards reported that the Swedes with whom he lived and worked, believed almost without exception that being an American means being a millionaire.

"They think that everyone in this country has nothing to do but go to cocktail parties, and buy automobiles for each one of their children. Apparently they believe this wealth occurs by some miracle because they don't think we work hard like everyone else."

Richards, however, added that this impression of American life has come about more through U.S. movies shown in Sweden than as a result of Communist propaganda. Communists, according to Richards, aren't taken very seriously in Sweden. The Communists are swamped by the overwhelming feeling of good will toward the United States.

The Swedes, the young student pointed out, anxiously employ every agricultural advance they learn about from this country.

ROGER RICHARDS

An example of this is the great deal of prestige associated with membership in 4-H clubs in Sweden. The Swedish 4-H club program, he said, was imported bodily from the United States and is having a growing popularity there today.

Richards traveled as far north as the Arctic Circle and came to know Swedes in all parts of the country. The International Farm Youth Exchange is an organization supported by private funds and sponsors visits abroad for persons of all educational backgrounds.

4-Day Fire In Corn Bin May Be Stopped Soon

CHENEY, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Thursday may see the end of the smoldering fire which has been eating its way since Saturday through 32,000 bushels of federal corn stored in a quonset bin at the edge of Cheney.

Richard Lefferdink, Lancaster County PMA chairman, said that workers removing the $48,000 in corn will be able to "get behind the fire Thursday." The fire is burning along the surface of a ventilation tunnel running the length of the bin's floor.

Even though the Lincoln Fire Department has made four runs to the fire so far, they can only extinguish the fire where it is exposed by removal of the corn burying the embers.

"The fire," Lefferdink said, "started from the front of the tunnel and keeps working farther and farther back down the tunnel."

He estimated that the loss would not be too great because the fire only burns a few inches from the tunnel into the stored corn before it goes out. The fire, Lefferdink said, seems "to boil the corn into a black goo which suffocates the blaze and forces the fire to move on down the ventilator."

The cause of the fire is not known but Lefferdink said that he thought it "had something to do with the fumigation of the bin."

Four Trips And It's Still Burning

Unexpected callers paid an early-morning visit to the W. C. Robinson farm Wednesday.

Robinson, who farms eight miles southwest of Lincoln, reported a buck and two does came within "about 40 rods" of his house shortly after the sun put in an appearance.

"They were really big—as tall as our cows," Robinson said.

He estimated the buck "had an antler spread of 30 inches."

"They were in sight of the capitol when I saw them," Robinson related, "and they headed for Lincoln."

Ike Hopes Spy Hunt To Be 'History' By Election Time

Red Hunters Turn Fire On Ex-Sec. Snyder Who Promoted Glasser, Accused By FBI

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower shunted the Harry Dexter White case aside Wednesday and voiced a hope the Communists in government issue will be a matter of history and memory by the time next year's election rolls around.

Eisenhower said that at this time he isn't saying another word about the "Soviet espionage" case that has rocked Washington and the country.

He told his news conference he hopes measures taken by his administration will clear from the minds of the American people suspicions that the government is weak in regard to Red infiltration.

No, he said, that didn't mean he would discourage persons in the executive arm of the government or in the Republican Party from keeping the issue alive. But he said he trusted sincerely that the need for congressional investigations along this line will be eliminated.

The President nevertheless repeated his view that Congress has a right to investigate.

Go Right Ahead

And up in the Senate, the Internal Security Subcommittee went right ahead keeping the espionage issue alive. It gave new emphasis to several documents it had turned up previously and to two new ones to show that former Secretary of the Treasury Snyder had promoted Harold Glasser after the FBI named both Glasser and White in reports on Soviet spying.

Subcommittee Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) limited his comment on the Eisenhower news conference to saying

"We're not interested at all in the political aspects of this thing We're interested only in the facts We just don't know now when the job will be complete."

A subcommittee member, Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), remarked that "investigating committees go on like babbling brooks" and disagreed with the idea that investigations into Communism may be over before the 1954 election.

From Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall came a statement that he agreed with Eisenhower on cleaning up "the mess in Washington," as "Communism is the basic issue of our times"

Concentrates On Glasser

The Jenner subcommittee concentrated more Wednesday on Glasser than on White, both of whom were once Treasury officials. White died in 1948 after denying he was a Communist or spy.

The whole inquiry is tied in with Atty. Gen. Brownell's charge on Nov. 6 that former President Truman knowingly promoted White from assistant Treasury secretary to U.S. director of the International Monetary Fund in 1946 in the face of FBI reports identifying White as a Red spy.

Truman accused Brownell Monday night of debasing the office of attorney general with political trickery. He said he kept White on to facilitate the FBI investigation of him and others. Whereupon, FBI Director J Edgar Hoover said Truman's decision hindered rather than helped the probe.

Jenner has contended, in statements and in a subcommittee report, that White was only one of a number of persons who was kept in government service and even promoted after it was discovered they were linked with Soviet espionage. The report mentioned Glasser as one of these indivduals, too

Whether Snyder actually saw the reports naming either White or Glasser was not established Wednesday. But a letter he wrote in 1948, brought to light Wednesday, made it clear he at least was aware of the charges against Glasser.

Snyder became Treasury secretary in June, 1946.

Subcommittee documents showed he appointed Glasser director of the Treasury's monetary research division at a $10,000 a year salary in August, 1946

Robert Morris, attorney for the subcommittee, remarked that Glasser's appointment to the monetary research job was made after two summaries of FBI reports on Soviet spying had been sent to the Treasury. As authority for that, he cited testimony by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover

Glasser stayed on in the Tdeasury until the end of 1947.

Copies of two letters in which Snyder praised Glasser's work, both dated Dec 26, 1947, were dug out of the files and put into the official record again

Snyder had been invited to appear before the subcommittee Wednesday. But he sent word from Toledo, where he is an official of an automobile manufacturing company, that he was unable to make it. He said he would be glad to give the subcomfittee any information it wanted or to answer questions.

Mrs. Colson Is Freed By Imperial Jury

IMPERIAL, Neb. (AP)—An all-male jury Wednesday night found Mrs Thelma Colson innocent on a charge of manslaughter in the death of her husband.

The jury returned the verdict at 10 55 p m. after deliberating since 12 40 p m.

Mrs. Colson, accused of stabbing her husband last March 10, took the stand Wednesday morning to testify that she could not recall the moment he was wounded but he had told her later in the hospital he "knew the wound was accidental and that he would swear on his deathbed it was unintentional"

Her husband, Edwin Colson, 34, died two weeks after the stabbing He was not hospitalized until five days after the stabbing when peritonitis set in. He was cared for at home until the doctor advised taking Colson to a hospital.

Another witness Wednesday was Chase County Sheriff Clifton Morrison, who read a statement he said was given by Colson when he was in the hospital.

'Accidental'

The statement said the wound was entirely accidental, Sheriff Morrison testified. It added that Colson was not intoxicated but "pretty far along"

These two and Dr. Faye Smith of Imperial agreed that Colson's death resulted from the infection and that the wound alone probably would not have caused death.

News Around The Globe

Big 3 Asks Israel Censure

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The Big Three Western powers Wednesday formally demanded that the U. N. Security Council vote the "strongest censure" against Israel for the killing of 53 Arabs in the Jordan village of Kibya last month.

In a strongly worded resolution, the United States, Britain and France held that the Kibya massacre was carried out by the armed forces of Israel and was a violation of the 1948 cease-fire.

The proposal called on the 11-nation council to express "the strongest censure of that action which can only prejudice the chances of that peaceful settlement which both parties in accordance with the (U.N.) charter are bound to seek."

Reds Stand Firm

PANMUNJOM (Thursday) (AP)—The Communists insisted again today that neutrals including Russia should participate in the Korean peace conference so that their "good offices" might smooth the way to a settlement.

The Red negotiators said this was more important than allowing the non-belligerents to actually vote at the conference.

During the 2½ hour meeting the Communists declared the conference should be held in Panmunjom and should start sometime in December.

Meanwhile, Communist explanations seeking to woo prisoners of war back to Communism were at a standsill. The Reds have resisted an Indian plan for speeding up the interviews.

No Decisions Seen

PARIS, (INS)—A French Foreign Ministry spokesman told a news conference Wednesday that "no decisions will be taken" at next month's Bermuda conference of President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Churchill and French Premier Laniel.

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich) of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said Wednesday he saw no necessity now for the committee to take testimony from Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina in the Harry Dexter White case.

Clardy, chairman of a subcommittee named to confer with Gov. Byrnes, declared that "all concerned" agree that former President Harry S. Truman no longer challenges Byrnes' statement that he called Truman's attention to a 1946 FBI report listing White as a security risk.

In PURSUIT of HAPPINESS

By J. GORDON ROBERTS

What is "Prosperity"?

How might a continuing prosperity be described?

Such prosperity must of course depend upon productive, rather than wasteful, use of the fruits of labor.

The following definition may be helpful:

Prosperity is a spiritual, sociological, and economic condition within a nation or area wherein people are:

. . of adequate spiritual and emotional maturity, mental capacity, nervous stability and physical health for self-maintenance,

. . . educated to meet their economic requirements while developing and conserving natural resources;

. . . with enough of the population voluntarily, through hope of just reward rather than fear of punishment, so productively employed that

(a) The property of one segment of society is not confiscated to subsidize the non-productivity of another segment;

(b) The property of one generation is not confiscated by another;

. . . with a more than sufficiently bountiful supply of natural resources and adequate production and distribution of the fruits thereof to provide for economic growth and good public health while continuing or bringing about a suitable population trend.

Ike Hopes Spy Hunt To Be 'History' By Election Time

Red Hunters Turn Fire On Ex-Sec. Snyder Who Promoted Glasser, Accused By FBI

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower shunted the Harry Dexter White case aside Wednesday and voiced a hope the Communists in government issue will be a matter of history and memory by the time next year's election rolls around.

Eisenhower said that at this time he isn't saying another word about the "Soviet espionage" case that has rocked Washington and the country.

He told his news conference he hopes measures taken by his administration will clear from the minds of the American people suspicions that the government is weak in regard to Red infiltration.

No, he said, that didn't mean he would discourage persons in the executive arm of the government or in the Republican Party from keeping tre issue alive. But he said he trusted sincerely that the need for congressional investigations along this line will be eliminated.

The President nevertheless repeated his view that Congress has a right to investigate.

Go Right Ahead

And up in the Senate, the Internal Security Subcommittee went right ahead keeping the espionage issue alive. It gave new emphasis to several documents it had turned up previously and to two new ones to show that former Secretary of the Treasury Snyder had promoted Harold Glasser after the FBI named both Glasser and White in reports on Soviet spying.

Subcommittee Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) limited his comment on the Eisenhower news conference to saying:

"We're not interested at all in the political aspects of this thing. We're interested only in the facts. We just don't know now when the job will be complete."

A subcommittee member, Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), remarked that "investigating committees go on like babbling brooks" and disagreed with the idea that investigations into Communism may be over before the 1954 election.

From Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall came a statement that he agreed with Eisenhower on cleaning up "the mess in Washington," as "Communism is the basic issue of our times."

Concentrates On Glasser

The Jenner subcommittee concentrated more Wednesday on Glasser than on White, both of whom were once Treasury officials. White died in 1948 after denying he was a Communist or spy.

The whole inquiry is tied in with Atty. Gen. Brownell's charge on Nov. 6 that former President Truman knowingly promoted White from assistant Treasury secretary to U.S. director of the International Monetary Fund in 1946 in the face of FBI reports identifying White as a Red spy.

Truman accused Brownell Monday night of debasing the office of attorney general with political trickery. He said he kept White on to facilitate the FBI investigation of him and others. Whereupon, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Truman's decision hindered rather than helped the probe.

Jenner has contended, in statements and in a subcommittee report, that White was only one of a number of persons who was kept in government service and even promoted after it was discovered they were linked with Soviet espionage. The report mentioned Glasser as one of these indivduals, too.

Whether Snyder actually saw the reports naming either White or Glasser was not established Wednesday. But a letter he wrote in 1948, brought to light Wednesday, made it clear he at least was aware of the charges against Glasser.

Snyder became Treasury secretary in June, 1946.

Subcommittee documents showed he appointed Glasser director of the Treasury's monetary research division at a $10,000 a year salary in August, 1946.

Robert Morris, attorney for the subcommittee, remarked that Glasser's appointment to the monetary research job was made after two summaries of FBI reports on Soviet spying had been sent to the Treasury. As authority for that, he cited testimony by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Glasser stayed on in the Tdeasury until the end of 1947.

Copies of two letters in which Snyder praised Glasser's work, both dated Dec. 26, 1947, were dug out of the files and put into the official record again.

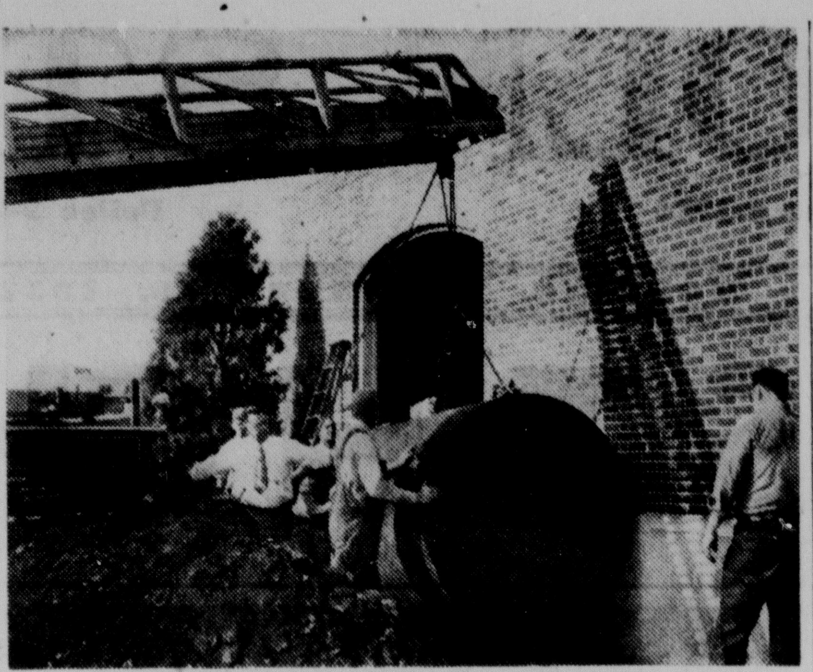
Snyder had been invited to appear before the subcommittee Wednesday. But he sent word from Toledo, where he is an official of an automobile manufacturing company, that he was unable to make it. He said he would be glad to give the subcomfittee any information it wanted or to answer questions.

Transparent Swim Suit Brings Damage Action

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The one piece bathing suit pretty Mrs. Patricia C. Muncy wore at a Santa Monica pool attracted considerable attention.

Mrs. Muncy was pleased, until she looked at her suit. Upon contact with water, she said Wednesday in an action asking $10,000 damages, it "became transparent and pervious to light."

Her action, directed against the firm from which she bought the suit, said she was exposed to public gaze and ridicule and suffered extreme embarrassment and shock.



More Gas For The Fire Wagons

Mrs. Colson Is Freed By Imperial Jury

IMPERIAL, Neb. (AP)—An all-male jury Wednesday night found Mrs. Thelma Colson innocent on a charge of manslaughter in the death of her husband.

The jury returned the verdict at 10:55 p.m. after deliberating since 12:40 p.m.

Mrs. Colson, accused of stabbing her husband last March 10, took the stand Wednesday morning to testify that she could not recall the moment he was wounded but he had told her later in the hospital he "knew the wound was accidental and that he would swear on his deathbed it was unintentional."

Her husband, Edwin Colson, 34, died two weeks after the stabbing. He was not hospitalized until five days after the stabbing when peritonitis set in. He was cared for at home until the doctor advised taking Colson to a hospital.

Another witness Wednesday was Chase County Sheriff Clifton Morrison, who read a statement he said was given by Colson when he was in the hospital.

'Accidental'

The statement said the wound was entirely accidental, Sheriff Morrison testified. It added that Colson was not intoxicated but "pretty far along."

These two and Dr. Faye Smith of Imperial agreed that Colson's death resulted from the infection and that the wound alone probably would not have caused death.

Injury Suit Dismissed

The $5,143.50 personal injury suit of Walter Gates against the T. J. Tidewell Shows has been dismissed by the Federal District Court on joint motion of both parties.

Gates was allegedly injured from a fall down an unlighted stairway in the "Nut House," while the defendant's show attraction was at Fairbury.

C-47 Crash Kills 1 At Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (INS)—The co-pilot was killed and the pilot critically injured Wednesday when their twin-engine Air Force C-47 crashed on take-off in a blinding snowstorm at Kirtland Air Force Base in Albuquerque, N. M.

Killed was 1st Lt. Robert M. Vanderburg of Albuquerque. The pilot Major John R. Watkins, also was critically injured.

Of the six other airmen on the plane, all stationed at Kirtland, none were reported in critical condition. Four were in the hospital Wednesday night and two others already had been released.

Air Force officials said the plane crashed on the field while taking off on a routine flight. The plane, based at Kirtland, was headed for Norton Air Base, San Bernardino, Calif.

Big Uranium Bonuses

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (INS) — The Atomic Energy Commission reports uranium miners have received more than two and one-half million dollars in federal bonuses since March 1, 1951. Sheldon P. Wimpfen, manager of the AEC operations office at Grand Junction, said the bonuses were paid to stimulate uranium exploration and development and to help offset the high cost of getting a uranium mine into production.

News Around The Globe

Big 3 Asks Israel Censure

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Big Three Western powers Wednesday formally demanded that the U. N. Security Council vote the "strongest censure" against Israel for the killing of 53 Arabs in the Jordan village of Kibya last month.

In a strongly worded resolution, the United States, Britain and France held that the Kibya massacre was carried out by the armed forces of Israel and was a violation of the 1948 cease-fire.

The proposal called on the 11-nation council to express "the strongest censure of that action which can only prejudice the chances of that peaceful settlement which both parties in accordance with the (U.N.) charter are bound to seek."

Reds Stand Firm

PANMUNJOM (Thursday) (AP)—The Communists insisted again today that neutrals including Russia should participate in the Korean peace conference so that their "good offices" might smooth the way to a settlement.

The Red negotiators said this was more important than allowing the non-belligerents to actually vote at the conference.

During the 2½ hour meeting the Communists declared the conference should be held in Panmunjom and should start sometime in December.

Meanwhile, Communist explanations seeking to woo prisoners of war back to Communism were at a standsill. The Reds have resisted an Indian plan for speeding up the interviews.

No Decisions Seen

PARIS, (INS)—A French Foreign Ministry spokesman told a news conference Wednesday that "no decisions will be taken" at next month's Bermuda conference of President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Churchill and French Premier Laniel.

He said the Dec. 4-8 meeting will be simply a general discussion of Big Three problems without an agenda.

Byrnes Not Challenged

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich) of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said Wednesday he saw no necessity now for the committee to take testimony from Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina in the Harry Dexter White case.

Clardy, chairman of a subcommittee named to confer with Gov. Byrnes, declared that "all concerned" agree that former President Harry S. Truman no longer challenges Byrnes' statement that he called Truman's attention to a 1946 FBI report listing White as a security risk.

Student Has Quads

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The birth of quadruplets thrust a Syrian couple at the University of Florida into sudden prominence Wednesday.

The infants, one boy and three girls, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Wasfi Hijab who came to the university this fall as graduate students.

Chiang Official Fired

TAIPEH, Formosa (INS) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek Wednesday fired his secretary-general, Dr. Wang Shih-chieh, in a dispute that had threatened to blow up into a full scale cabinet crisis.

It was understood the Chinese Nationalist leaders refused to accept the resignations of Foreign Minister George Yeh and another top official. Yeh denied published reports that the entire cabinet had resigned.

Deficit Cut Seen

WASHINGTON (INS)—Postmaster General Arthur S. Summerfield declared Wednesday night that he expects to make a 306 million dollar cut in the postal deficit this fiscal year.

Summerfield made the statement at a special banquet commemorating the installation of the 50 millionth telephone. The phone was placed in the office of President Eisenhower.

Fatigue Hospitalizes Singer Frank Sinatra

NEW YORK (INS) — Frank Sinatra was admitted to Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York Wednesday, suffering from fatigue.

Saul Jaffe, attorney for the singing star and actor, said Sinatra was "not seriously ill," and probably would be discharged from the hospital Thursday.

Sinatra's condition was ascribed to overwork. The National Broadcasting Co. said the singer had recorded seven radio shows in the last few days.

Disarmament Urged

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Political Committee urged the big powers Wednesday to step up efforts for disarmament and atomic control and suggested that private talks might help them reach agreement.

The committee voted 54-0 for a much-amended resolution backed by the Western Big Three—the United States, France and Britain—and 11 other countries. The Soviet block abstained.

4 Airmen Die In Helicopter Crash

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (INS)—Eglin Field officials said Wednesday that the crash of a giant helicopter in Greenland has cost the lives of four flyers, including two Eglin men.

A base spokesman said no details were available as to the cause of a crash Tuesday at Thule Air Force Base in Greenland.

Eglin Field identified the two victims who had been attached to the Florida base as:

Captain Raymond C. Gottfried, 30, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Tech Sgt. Clay H. Danner, 36, of Valle Crucis, N. C.

Names of the other two victims were not available at Eglin.

Dior Models Going East

PARIS (INS)—The Christian Dior fashion house said that seven of its models will fly to Tokyo Nov. 22 for the first French fashion show in Japan. They will display 100 gowns under auspices of Japanese Prince Takamatsu and the French Embassy.

In PURSUIT of HAPPINESS

By J. GORDON ROBERTS

What is "Prosperity"?

How might a continuing prosperity be described?

Such prosperity must of course depend upon productive, rather than wasteful, use of the fruits of labor.

The following definition may be helpful:

Prosperity is a spiritual, sociological, and economic condition within a nation or area wherein people are:

. . . of adequate spiritual and emotional maturity, mental capacity, nervous stability and physical health for self-maintenance;

. . . educated to meet their economic requirements while developing and conserving natural resources;

. . . with enough of the population voluntarily, through hope of just reward rather than fear of punishment, so productively employed that

(a) The property of one segment of society is not confiscated to subsidize the non-productivity of another segment;

(b) The property of one generation is not confiscated by another;

. . . with a more than sufficiently bountiful supply of natural resources and adequate production and distribution of the fruits thereof to provide for economic growth and good public health while continuing or bringing about a suitable population trend.

AT THE CROSSROADS OF LINCOLN

On The Bargain Counter

It would appear that the sale of surplus buildings at old Ft. Robinson was a dud.

In Kansas City, K. A. McVey, director of surplus real property disposal activities in the General Services Administration offices, announced that in response to an advertisement for bids, only one was received. It was for $10,863 for 82 buildings and fixtures at the former military post.

That may be a fair price for salvage.

There are a number of buildings at Ft. Robinson, however, solid, substantial structures of permanent type construction, that cost singly, there is reason to believe, more than the amount offered for the entire group. The bid, which has been rejected as "inadequate," follows the general outline of recent months in the decentralization policy of disposing of assets of the federal government in returning responsibilities to the states. Washington's mood today is expressed in the words of "hostility to Big Government." On its fringes lurk the plan of several of the states to capture millions of acres of public domain. These lands to which the federal government has always held title actually belong to the states, the advocates of state sovereignty cry. When the states occupied territorial status, they were a part of the federal public domain, and that relationship did not change when the states secured statehood.

Back to Ft. Robinson—the bid received for a group of 82 buildings ought to be measured by Senator Butler's announced position that the fort and the thousands of acres of land included within it should be returned to the tax rolls. We repeat that the people of Nebraska will have few better bargains dangled before their eyes than to set aside Ft. Robinson and its facilities for its recognized recreational opportunities and for the historic value.

'Lazy And Incompetent'

Ken Rystrom, an outstanding student of the University of Nebraska, the editor of the college paper, The Nebraskan, was discussing Regent Roy Welsh's expressed fears that the undergraduates might become "indoctrinated" by what instructors say in the classroom.

"Nothing should be further from the truth—unless the student is lazy or incompetent," Mr. Rystrom writes in an editorial in The Nebraskan. "The American university system is designed so that the instructors are only one of many sources of education. No serious student would ever take a single instructor's word for the gospel truth without further pursuing the subject—through other instructors, books, conversations and experience. Theoretically, the instructor in any controversial subject is intended only to stimulate students' interest and provide one view. If this principle does not work in actual practice, the fault obviously lies not with the instructor, but with the student. . . . When Regent Welsh and the World Herald express fear of indoctrination, they are not reflecting upon the qualifications of professors. They are expressing a lack of faith in university students. If students are being indoctrinated, they themselves are to blame. No student who takes his education seriously allows himself to be indoctrinated."

That comes about as near to hitting the nail squarely on the head in comparatively few words as anything that has been said in connection with the complaint of the Hall County Farm Bureau Federation against the fine, valuable educator, Dr. Clyde Mitchell.

Dr. Mitchell in the field of rural economics does have an opinion, to be sure, of a prosperous agriculture. Whenever he is expressing his own opinion, invariably it has been his practice to so label it as his opinion and to invite discussion. It is discussion—full, comprehensive discussion—conflicting views—honestly and fully expressed—with more than a smattering, superficial knowledge of the field itself—that transforms a deadly dull classroom into the best traditions of education itself.

And these youngsters of today — in our judgment, a superior generation to those that preceded them—interested, thoughtful, living in a confused and confusing world—offer no fertile field for indoctrination. Mr. Rystrom speaks with the wisdom and the authority of a young man, who knows why he is going to college. He is there to find out as much about his world as time, opportunity and energy permit.

Of Men And Things

Under the generally recognized, competent leadership of J. Edgar Hoover, we take it, the FBI has built up a reputation of great usefulness and outstanding distinguished service in the thinking of the American people. Here at home it has waged a brave, unceasing battle against lawlessness—in the dual role of protecting the American people from sinister, evil enemies abroad, it has been everlastingly vigilant.

Its Usefulness Impaired

Because of a general deep appreciation for the work of the FBI, it seems to be both common sense and farsighted to direct attention now to one of the possible fruits growing out of Attorney General Brownell's Chicago speech. Mark Childs puts his finger upon it in his column which appears on this page. He writes in this language of the consequences of the great emotional binge which Mr. Brownell initiated through loosely worded charges made in the course of that Chicago speech: "Other consequences are foreseeable. The FBI is bound to be drawn more and more into politics, its objectivity and therefore its usefulness impaired. The larger consequences are even more damaging. American leadership is discredited. The democratic process is made to look impotent and even absurd. All of this, it is hardly necessary to add, suits the Communists down to the ground." This is only Mr. Childs' opinion, a seasoned, experienced judgment born of long association with the undercurrents which are a part of life in Washington. Any other American citizen is entitled to his own opinion in this field in which understandably emotionalism can take over so easily in substitution for clear thinking. But does Mr. Childs make sense in what he writes?

What he has written seems to be the essence of everyday thinking—down-to-earth common sense. Something of the same thought was expressed so admirably by a harassed President — President Eisenhower — in the White House Wednesday when in reply to questioning, he said that "we can't go on fearing each other forever." Have we become so hysterical under constant lashing—and the purpose of that lashing need not even be included in our speculations—as to think that for month after month we can continue, even to the extent of reaching into the grave, to dig up old fears and frightening suspicions?

Divorced From Politics

The effectiveness of the FBI, it goes without saying, rests upon that agency's complete divorcement from politics. Whenever consciously or unconsciously it is drawn into the partisan struggle of American politics, it will suffer irreparably. Mr. Brownell is J. Edgar Hoover's superior. This is not to suggest that the attorney general forced the head of the FBI to become an unwilling, reluctant witness in a congressional hearing against a man who was the former President of the American people. Mr. Hoover, we assume, took the witness stand because he wanted to be heard, and felt strongly that the time had come for him to speak. Part of the public will experience difficulty in reconciling his statement that it was not his duty to evaluate what he and his staff digs up—or more accurately, to formulate policy—while in the next breath the man over him branded the late Harry Dexter White as a recognized member of a Russian spy ring. It does not appear publicly that at the time the decisions now so savagely criticized were reached, the head of the FBI, feeling as he says he did, voiced a vigorous protest in expressing of his judgment. Or did Mr. Hoover sit there quietly, a listener to the discussions, occupying a chair but silent beyond the reports which he and his staff had earlier prepared?

★

If there are people still alive deserving punishment for having betrayed their country, then the FBI should leave no stone unturned to see that justice is done or that a continuing danger be averted. The last thing in the world that should happen to it, however, is to be drawn into a continuing political controversy of the character which the White case has become.

Virtue Of Suffering

The poet of old who referred to late autumn as "the melancholy days . . . the saddest of the year" lived before the age of football and the great stadia. But he wrote with prescience of the gridiron sport. It is by mid-November that most of the college football teams realize that their earlier high hopes of a championship are not going to be realized. For it is the nature of the sport that most have to be losers. Late November is a bad time for coaches, too. It is bitter for the die-hard patrons. One would almost think that the game ought to be abolished because it produces so much unhappiness.

But out of this decaying gloom comes a bright and comforting shaft of light. Dr. Albert C. Jacobs, president of Trinity College, thinks football and the passion for winning is strictly all right. He told the New York Touchdown Club that "America which needs to remain physically and mentally strong and tough needs the magnificent sport of football."

He went on to say, "We need boys who play hard and lose hard; we need the Saturday afternoons in which those in the stands root hard and lose hard. I do not worry about the fact the football has become a great spectator sport. I will worry when it stops being a spectator sport."

Youthful Crime

So rapidly has juvenile crime increased since 1948 that it has taken its place among other major national problems. The Senate subcommittee charged with studying its spread and causes says it has increased 30 per cent over the past five years.

The failure of children to adjust to society is frequently a reflection on society itself. Sometimes the cure of the patient calls for the treatment of the physician.

No one cause can be charged with the responsibility for such a complex subject as juvenile delinquency. But certainly one that is too little considered is the constant enlargement of our cities. These great urban collectives are being eyed as security risks and their very size has rendered most of them inefficient. Without doubt they are also providing a fertile breeding ground for organized crime and its flourishing side-department, juvenile crime. The big city environment makes evil recruitment easy and worthwhile. Moreover, the corruptors of children find security in the shadows of the big cities.

There still is and always will be a special wholesomeness in the smaller towns and the open places close to nature. Humankind does better there.

Power Rivalry Back Of Reds' Hardened Policy

WASHINGTON — That the present Harry White controversy was started to divert the nation from political problems is debatable. Not debatable, however, is the fact that it has distracted the nation from some of the most important developments going on inside Russia since Stalin died.

The State Department and the American embassy in Moscow have been exchanging worried cables about these developments. Churchill has been chiming in. Ambassador Bohlen took a special trip to Paris to report to U. S. diplomats. What worries the diplomats is the sudden, recalcitrant, almost brutal tone of Russian foreign policy, plus reports that Premier Malenkov has allied himself with the most rabid anti-American hotheads in the Russian army.

Malenkov, who started with a soft tone toward the West, has now turned round and is just the opposite. Anti-semitism is being encouraged again, possibly as a gesture to the Arabs. Not the slightest intention has been shown of sitting down at a conference table regarding the future of Germany and Austria. And the question of Korean peace is just as elusive as ever.

What's going on inside the Kremlin appears to be a continuing and serious inner struggle for power between members of the committee now running Russia. Malenkov is still playing the first violin in this committee, but reports indicate he is by no means the orchestra leader—yet.

On this governing committee with Malenkov are Marshal Bulganin, head of the Red army; Molotov, vice premier; Nikita Khrushchev, secretary of the Communist party, second most powerful ruler; and Grublov, who replaced Beria as head of the secret police.

Inside this group, the jockeying continues. As a result, diplomatic observers believe Malenkov cannot afford to be even slightly conciliatory toward the United States without being considered "soft" by his rivals. Hence the sudden, much tougher policy.

ALF LANDON SNUBBED

The cold shoulder which Republicans gave ex-Gov. Alf Landon at the recent GOP dinner in Topeka is considered an unfortunate indication of Kansas disunity.

Alf Landon, one-time candidate for President and one of the grand old men of the Grand Old Party, was given no seat at the head table during the Topeka dinner, but bought a ticket himself and sat unobtrusively in the rear. Republicans in the nation's capital compared this snub to putting Herbert Hoover in the back row of a Republican rally in Washington instead of on the stage.

Reason for the GOP snub was the fact that Landon favored the Kansas legislature's probe of Wesley Roberts' lobbing activities — a probe which resulted in Roberts' forced retirement as Republican national chairman.

One wing of the GOP in Kansas hasn't forgiven Landon for favoring this cleanup, though the majority of Kansas Republicans are reported with him.

Landon himself took the Topeka cold-shoulder gracefully "It is a matter of indifference to me whether I sit on the platform," he said. "I have honors which come to few men in the Republican party."

A lot of people have been wondering why Sen. Bill Langer, North Dakota independent Republican, has been defending Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson at the same time his North Dakota colleague, Milton Young, has been berating him. Benson is about as unpopular in North Dakota as a carpetbagger in the South, but Langer has continued to say Benson should not be fired every time Young has demanded that he be fired.

The other day Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon independent, found out the answer. Dropping in at Langer's office, Morse said:

"I am going out to your bailiwick to speak before the Farmers Union in Bismarck. Is there anything I can do for you out there?"

Langer appreciated the offer but said he had just come from North Dakota. The two senators then chatted about Benson and the farm problem!

Later, in Bismarck, Sen. Morse delivered a withering tirade against Secretary of Agriculture Benson. The Farmers Union audience roared. Then he proceeded to praise his colleague, Sen. Langer. The audience sat on its hands.

Morse continued to praise Langer but the audience continued to be cold. It was obvious that the senator from North Dakota, long a champion of the farmer, had recently lost favor.

"Some of you may wonder why our old friend, Bill Langer, has not demanded that Ezra Benson resign as secretary of agriculture," said Morse, starting off on a new tack. "I wondered about that myself, but have now found out the reason why.

"Bill Langer is smart. He knows that if Benson resigns as secretary of agriculture, they will just appoint another man exactly like Benson. It will take six months for him to learn the ropes. During that six months the farmers are going to continue suffering. That's why Bill Langer says it's better to keep Benson because he's now almost educated."

Finally the audience applauded.

MARQUIS CHILDS

American Politics Is Treading Shaky Ground

WASHINGTON—Where does it end? To that question about the ruckus raised over the charge against former President Truman brought by Herbert Brownell Jr., one may suggest two quite different answers.

The first answer poses a bleak outlook for those who had hopes for a calm and constructive and more or less bipartisan approach to the big problems of foreign policy that are also related to domestic issues. Foremost among these problems is, of course, the matter of trade and trade barriers on which the Eisenhower administration will need the votes of Democrats in Congress if the declared Eisenhower policy is to be put over.

In this gloomy view—gloomy, that is, to those who feel that a continuing Katzenjammer act is hopelessly destructive—Brownell and Chairman Leonard Hall of the Republican National Committee will conclude that more and bigger White cases will serve their purposes. They will thus go into the uneasy graveyard of the recent past and come up with a new skeleton whenever the prevailing excitement shows signs of damping down.

This will not be hard to do. In the secret FBI report made public by Brownell are many names. The individuals will not all be subject to the same type of treatment since in the Harry Dexter White case the principal as well as his immediate superior, Fred Vinson, secretary of the treasury at the time of the submission of the FBI reports, were both conveniently dead.

But the material is ample. Each case, embellished with new details from the confidential files of the FBI, can be translated into sensational headlines. One of the sensations to be heated up again, according to report, is that of Judith Coplon who was tried on espionage charges growing out of her relationship with a Russian agent. Evidence obtained by tapping telephone conversations was ruled out by the circuit court of appeals and Miss Coplon, a former employee, of the Department of Justice, went free.

In an atmosphere continuously charged in this fashion it is hard to see how any practical co-operation could be achieved in Congress for the measures needing the support of Democrats as well as most Republicans if they are to pass. The halls of Senate and House will reverberate with the same angry charges and the same indignant responses. Under such circumstances the legislative program made up of essential measures postponed from the last session will be mauled if not actually torn apart.

Other consequences are forseeable. The FBI is bound to be drawn more and more into politics, its objectivity and therefore its usefulness impaired.

The larger consequences are even more damaging. American leadership is discredited. The democratic process is made to look impotent and even absurd. All this, it is hardly necessary to add, suits the Communists down to the ground. The propaganda material helpful to the goal of Communist imperalism is handed them in what the radio-TV world calls a package day after day.

In the second and hopeful answer to where it all ends when the immediate sensation of the White case is allowed to die down. More responsible members of the administration have for some time been aware of the dangerous backfire in the tactic used by Brownell. President Eisenhower made this clear at the press conference at which he was pressed so hard as to his views of the Brownell accusations.

In this second perspective the constructive force for which President Eisenhower seemed to stand as commander of the NATO forces and in the first phase of his candidacy is given predominance with leadership from the President himself. The essential bridge toward a bipartisan approach to many of the outstanding problems is rebuilt. The last will not be easy since great damage has already been done.

Speaking to the CIO convention in Cleveland, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles talked of the need for a confident and united America if this country is to carry out a constructive foreign policy pushing back the tide of Communism. Citing the opening paragraph of the Federalist Papers, Dulles said that it seems to have been reserved to the American people, by their conduct and example, to show the possibilities of a free society—an opportunity looked upon as one not merely for ourselves but for the benefit of all mankind. Nor, said the secretary, is lip service enough.

This was at the moment when spectacular televised hearings were proclaiming to the world the charge of treason brought against a former President of the United States. The Brownell technique may win elections. No one can at this time give a positive answer on that score one way or another. But it will not win victories for the West in the prolonged and difficult contest with the Communist conspiracy.

Values Of A Liberal Education

The Practical Value Of History

By DR. WALTER F. WRIGHT
Professor of English
University of Nebraska
(Eleventh of a series)

Through the study of history one mind is privileged to share in the experiences of countless other minds. When we consider the practical value of history we ultimately come back to this, its primary value.

There are other uses, too. Though history does not precisely repeat itself, we may find in situations in the past elements common to our own age and thus read the present trend more accurately and perhaps find hints on how to avoid disaster. With tyranny threatening the world and with fear leading to distrust of true democratic practices, we may turn back to the days of the Alien and Sedition Acts, to the repressive measures in Europe after 1815, or to the occasions when the Romans welcomed a strong man and repression in an attempt to prevent disaster to their empire and civil war at home.

Sometimes we find solace as we contemplate what in both ancient and recent times has seemed to be the inevitability of the fall of tyrants. There is the sobering recognition, however, that when one tyranny has been destroyed it has not always been supplanted by freedom, but has merely given way to another.

But reading history for present social application is only one of its uses, for every person is not only a responsible citizen in a state with concern for what may improve that state. Before he can be a good citizen, he must, first of all, be a thinking, imaginative being, anxious to glean and interpret as many significant experiences as he can during the uncertain span of his own personal life.

To live with no awareness of a past civilization is to be dwelling on a pinpoint of time. Those who know only what they themselves have seen happen may, if they live long enough, have interesting anecdotes to recall. But at best their understanding will be fragmentary, and their years will have been filled mainly with vast barren stretches, enlivened only here and there by a spot of green.

The development of Western Europe and of the United States is for most of us so much a part of our heritage that we can imagine with confidence the feelings and interests of our ancestors as we read their own words or study their lives and the features of the culture in which they lived. When studying history we must never abstract and generalize without also retaining an interest in the specific details, for the truth of our knowledge lies in our seeing as well as we can the whole scene.

It is for this reason that we value old letters, diaries, and journals, and all the artifacts which held us to see the authentic nature of an earlier life.

To the true historian, history has never meant the strawman concept of it as the mere memorization of data, though facts are indispensable; it has been an imaginative searching and a constant process of reconstruction. Whoever has a zeal to recreate, whether it be the history of his own valley or small town, the life of medieval France, or, perhaps more remote and difficult, the life of our American pre-Columbian civilizations or of those in the Orient—that person has the soul of a historian; and in the satisfaction which comes from knowledge he will find a lasting reward.

For he will not be the slave of the trivial and transitory, nor will he be shut in the tiny cell of his own personal life.

Little Town Folks

We were talking about the little towns that aren't even whistle stops, because there are no trains to stop there, and about the people who live in them, and what they do for amusement.

Two in the little group around our table were born to city life, and would have trouble telling you any real difference between a cow and a camel. One—the most successful of the four from a strictly material viewpoint—had spent his formative years in a small town. I was the fourth—a product of the west's high, lonely deserts.

"These little towns — they're miles from nowhere, with maybe a hundred people in them," mused one of the city-born pair. "How do they enjoy living? No shows, no night clubs, not even a tavern. They're too far from television, and there's one store in town that they've been through so often they know it by heart. It must be a dreary existence."

I thought of a family I know, the Gillespies—a man and his wife, and their two daughters, and a son. I met them years ago, when the oldest girl was nine, and had never seen a railroad train. They had a ranch in northern Arizona, 20 miles from a post office, almost 200 miles from the nearest town of a thousand population. I thought of how they knew the bluejays' habits, and the way a quail nests, and how they tamed the squirrels and watched the wild turkeys at play.

"The tragic thing is that those people are so out of touch," the other city-born man said. "The rest of the world is so far away from them. It's a wonder they even know how to vote, much less who for."

The Gillespies, I remembered, got their mail twice a week, and a book in every mail, and six newspapers, because they subscribed to two. They put the newspapers in order, and read them day by day from front to back, and the book they read aloud to the children, and then they talked about it—of what it said, and how it was written, and whether its ideas were good. I wondered how many of the rest of us read as much or have the time to understand it.

"The poor kids who grow up in those cross-road towns, what have they got to look forward to?" The first city-born man was speaking again.

The Gillespie daughters are married now, one to a New Mexico oil millionaire, and the other to a career diplomat in Washington, but they finished college before their marriages, and one graduated with highest scholastic honors, and the other was vice president of her class. The son is in college now; a great packing company wants to hire him when he graduates, but he is going back to the ranch and the folks.

"Well, it certainly isn't for me—not an existence as drab as those people must have," said the second city man.

I thought of the Gillespies, and the happiness they have found, and the culture and knowledge they've had time for, that the rest of us miss. I thought of telling the city-born ones about them, and then I didn't.

I didn't think they would understand. Too narrow a viewpoint. That's the trouble with city people.

Football Predictions

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have a hunch that the Rose Bowl this year will be Michigan State and UCLA. In any case, I have enjoyed the paper's coverage of Cornhusker games this season. There is only one thing on which I disagree with The Star and that is the No. 1 team in the state. I go along with the Islanders—could be wrong, but it is the best team I've watched in a number of years.

There are a number of buildings at Ft. Robinson, however, solid, substantial structures of permanent type construction, that cost singly, there is reason to believe, more than the amount offered for the entire group. The bid, which has been rejected as "inadequate," follows the general outline of recent months in the decentralization policy of disposing of assets of the federal government in returning responsibilities to the states. Washington's mood today is expressed in the words of "hostility to Big Government." On its fringes lurk the plan of several of the states to capture millions of acres of public domain. These lands to which the federal government has always held title actually belong to the states, the advocates of state sovereignty cry. When the states occupied territorial status, they were a part of the federal public domain, and that relationship did not change when the states secured statehood.

Back to Ft. Robinson—the bid received for a group of 82 buildings ought to be measured by Senator Butler's announced position that the fort and the thousands of acres of land included within it should be returned to the tax rolls. We repeat that the people of Nebraska will have few better bargains dangled before their eyes than to set aside Ft. Robinson and its facilities for its recognized recreational opportunities and for the historic value.

'Lazy And Incompetent'

Ken Rystrom, an outstanding student of the University of Nebraska, the editor of the college paper, The Nebraskan, was discussing Regent Roy Welsh's expressed fears that the undergraduates might become "indoctrinated" by what instructors say in the classroom.

"Nothing should be further from the truth—unless the student is lazy or incompetent," Mr. Rystrom writes in an editorial in The Nebraskan. "The American university system is designed so that the instructors are only one of many sources of education. No serious student would ever take a single instructor's word for the gospel truth without further pursuing the subject—through other instructors, books, conversations and experience. Theoretically, the instructor in any controversial subject is intended only to stimulate students' interest and provide one view. If this principle does not work in actual practice, the fault obviously lies not with the instructor, but with the student. . . . When Regent Welsh and the World Herald express fear of indoctrination, they are not reflecting upon the qualifications of professors. They are expressing a lack of faith in university students. If students are being indoctrinated, they themselves are to blame. No student who takes his education seriously allows himself to be indoctrinated."

That comes about as near to hitting the nail squarely on the head in comparatively few words as anything that has been said in connection with the complaint of the Hall County Farm Bureau Federation against the fine, valuable educator, Dr. Clyde Mitchell.

Dr. Mitchell in the field of rural economics does have an opinion, to be sure, of a prosperous agriculture. Whenever he is expressing his own opinion, invariably it has been his practice to so label it as his opinion and to invite discussion. It is discussion—full, comprehensive discussion—conflicting views—honestly and fully expressed—with more than a smattering, superficial knowledge of the field itself—that transforms a deadly dull classroom into the best traditions of education itself.

And these youngsters of today — in our judgment, a superior generation to those that preceded them—interested, thoughtful, living in a confused and confusing world—offer no fertile field for indoctrination. Mr. Rystrom speaks with the wisdom and the authority of a young man, who knows why he is going to college. He is there to find out as much about his world as time, opportunity and energy permit.

Of Men And Things

Under the generally recognized, competent leadership of J. Edgar Hoover, we take it, the FBI has built up a reputation of great usefulness and outstanding distinguished service in the thinking of the American people. Here at home it has waged a brave, unceasing battle against lawlessness—in the dual role of protecting the American people from sinister, evil enemies abroad, it has been everlastingly vigilant.

★

Its Usefulness Impaired

Because of a general deep appreciation for the work of the FBI, it seems to be both common sense and farsighted to direct attention now to one of the possible fruits growing out of Attorney General Brownell's Chicago speech. Mark Childs puts his finger upon it in his column which appears on this page. He writes in this language of the consequences of the great emotional binge which Mr. Brownell initiated through loosely worded charges made in the course of that Chicago speech: "Other consequences are foreseeable. The FBI is bound to be drawn more and more into politics, its objectivity and therefore its usefulness impaired. The larger consequences are even more damaging. American leadership is discredited. The democratic process is made to look impotent and even absurd. All of this, it is hardly necessary to add, suits the Communists down to the ground." This is only Mr. Childs' opinion, a seasoned, experienced judgment born of long association with the undercurrents which are a part of life in Washington. Any other American citizen is entitled to his own opinion in this field in which understandably emotionalism can take over so easily in substitution for clear thinking. But does Mr. Childs make sense in what he writes?

What he has written seems to be the essence of everyday thinking—down-to-earth common sense. Something of the same thought was expressed so admirably by a harassed President — President Eisenhower — in the White House Wednesday when in reply to questioning, he said that "we can't go on fearing each other forever." Have we become so hysterical under constant lashing—and the purpose of that lashing need not even be included in our speculations—as to think that for month after month we can continue, even to the extent of reaching into the grave, to dig up old fears and frightening suspicions?

Divorced From Politics

The effectiveness of the FBI, it goes without saying, rests upon that agency's complete divorcement from politics. Whenever consciously or unconsciously it is drawn into the partisan struggle of American politics, it will suffer irreparably. Mr. Brownell is J. Edgar Hoover's superior. This is not to suggest that the attorney general forced the head of the FBI to become an unwilling, reluctant witness in a congressional hearing against a man who was the former President of the American people. Mr. Hoover, we assume, took the witness stand because he wanted to be heard, and felt strongly that the time had come for him to speak. Part of the public will experience difficulty in reconciling his statement that it was not his duty to evaluate what he and his staff digs up—or more accurately, to formulate policy—while in the next breath the man over him branded the late Harry Dexter White as a recognized member of a Russian spy ring. It does not appear publicly that at the time the decisions now so savagely criticized were reached, the head of the FBI, feeling as he says he did, voiced a vigorous protest in expressing of his judgment. Or did Mr. Hoover sit there quietly, a listener to the discussions, occupying a chair but silent beyond the reports which he and his staff had earlier prepared?

★

If there are people still alive deserving punishment for having betrayed their country, then the FBI should leave no stone unturned to see that justice is done or that a continuing danger be averted. The last thing in the world that should happen to it, however, is to be drawn into a continuing political controversy of the character which the White case has become.

Virtue Of Suffering

The poet of old who referred to late autumn as "the melancholy days . . . the saddest of the year" lived before the age of football and the great stadia. But he wrote with prescience of the gridiron sport. It is by mid-November that most of the college football teams realize that their earlier high hopes of a championship are not going to be realized. For it is the nature of the sport that most have to be losers. Late November is a bad time for coaches, too. It is bitter for the die-hard patrons. One would almost think that the game ought to be abolished because it produces so much unhappiness.

But out of this decaying gloom comes a bright and comforting shaft of light. Dr. Albert C. Jacobs, president of Trinity College, thinks football and the passion for winning is strictly all right. He told the New York Touchdown Club that "America which needs to remain physically and mentally strong and tough needs the magnificent sport of football."

He went on to say, "We need boys who play hard and lose hard; we need the Saturday afternoons in which those in the stands root hard and lose hard. I do not worry about the fact the football has become a great spectator sport. I will worry when it stops being a spectator sport."

Youthful Crime

So rapidly has juvenile crime increased since 1948 that it has taken its place among other major national problems. The Senate subcommittee charged with studying its spread and causes says it has increased 30 per cent over the past five years.

The failure of children to adjust to society is frequently a reflection on society itself. Sometimes the cure of the patient calls for the treatment of the physician.

No one cause can be charged with the responsibility for such a complex subject as juvenile delinquency. But certainly one that is too little considered is the constant enlargement of our cities. These great urban collectives are being eyed as security risks and their very size has rendered most of them inefficient. Without doubt they are also providing a fertile breeding ground for organized crime and its flourishing side-department, juvenile crime. The big city environment makes evil recruitment easy and worthwhile. Moreover, the corruptors of children find security in the shadows of the big cities.

There still is and always will be a special wholesomeness in the smaller towns and the open places close to nature. Humankind does better there.

Power Rivalry Back Of Reds' Hardened Policy

WASHINGTON — That the present Harry White controversy was started to divert the nation from political problems is debatable. Not debatable, however, is the fact that it has distracted the nation from some of the most important developments going on inside Russia since Stalin died.

The State Department and the American embassy in Moscow have been exchanging worried cables about these developments. Churchill has been chiming in. Ambassador Bohlen took a special trip to Paris to report to U. S. diplomats. What worries the diplomats is the sudden, recalcitrant, almost brutal tone of Russian foreign policy, plus reports that Premier Malenkov has allied himself with the most rabid anti-American hotheads in the Russian army.

Malenkov, who started with a soft tone toward the West, has now turned round and is just the opposite. Anti-semitism is being encouraged again, possibly as a gesture to the Arabs. Not the slightest intention has been shown of sitting down at a conference table regarding the future of Germany and Austria. And the question of Korean peace is just as elusive as ever.

What's going on inside the Kremlin appears to be a continuing and serious inner struggle for power between members of the committee now running Russia. Malenkov is still playing the first violin in this committee, but reports indicate he is by no means the orchestra leader—yet.

On this governing committee with Malenkov are Marshal Bulganin, head of the Red army; Molotov, vice premier; Nikita Khrushchev, secretary of the Communist party, second most powerful ruler; and Grublov, who replaced Beria as head of the secret police.

Inside this group, the jockeying continues. As a result, diplomatic observers believe Malenkov cannot afford to be even slightly conciliatory toward the United States without being considered "soft" by his rivals. Hence the sudden, much tougher policy.

ALF LANDON SNUBBED

The cold shoulder which Republicans gave ex-Gov. Alf Landon at the recent GOP dinner in Topeka is considered an unfortunate indication of Kansas disunity.

Alf Landon, one-time candidate for President and one of the grand old men of the Grand Old Party, was given no seat at the head table during the Topeka dinner, but bought a ticket himself and sat unobtrusively in the rear. Republicans in the nation's capital compared this snub to putting Herbert Hoover in the back row of a Republican rally in Washington instead of on the stage.

Reason for the GOP snub was the fact that Landon favored the Kansas legislature's probe of Wesley Roberts' lobbing activities — a probe which resulted in Roberts' forced retirement as Republican national chairman.

One wing of the GOP in Kansas hasn't forgiven Landon for favoring this cleanup, though the majority of Kansas Republicans are reported with him.

Landon himself took the Topeka cold-shoulder gracefully "It is a matter of indifference to me whether I sit on the platform," he said. "I have honors which come to few men in the Republican party."

☆ ☆ ☆

A lot of people have been wondering why Sen. Bill Langer, North Dakota independent Republican, has been defending Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson at the same time his North Dakota colleague, Milton Young, has been berating him. Benson is about as unpopular in North Dakota as a carpetbagger in the South, but Langer has continued to say Benson should not be fired every time Young has demanded that he be fired.

The other day Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon independent, found out the answer. Dropping in at Langer's office, Morse said:

"I am going out to your bailiwick to speak before the Farmers Union in Bismarck. Is there anything I can do for you out there?"

Langer appreciated the offer but said he had just come from North Dakota. The two senators then chatted about Benson and the farm problem!

Later, in Bismarck, Sen. Morse delivered a withering tirade against Secretary of Agriculture Benson. The Farmers Union audience roared. Then he proceeded to praise his colleague, Sen. Langer. The audience sat on its hands.

Morse continued to praise Langer but the audience continued to be cold. It was obvious that the senator from North Dakota, long a champion of the farmer, had recently lost favor.

"Some of you may wonder why our old friend, Bill Langer, has not demanded that Ezra Benson resign as secretary of agriculture," said Morse, starting off on a new tack. "I wondered about that myself, but have now found out the reason why.

"Bill Langer is smart. He knows that if Benson resigns as secretary of agriculture, they will just appoint another man exactly like Benson. It will take six months for him to learn the ropes. During that six months the farmers are going to continue suffering. That's why Bill Langer says it's better to keep Benson because he's now almost educated."

Finally the audience applauded.

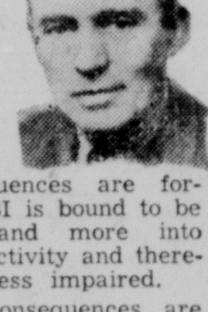
MARQUIS CHILDS

American Politics Is Treading Shaky Ground



WASHINGTON—Where does it end? To that question about the ruckus raised over the charge against former President Truman brought by Herbert Brownell Jr., one may suggest two quite different answers.

The first answer poses a bleak outlook for those who had hopes for a calm and constructive and more or less bipartisan approach to the big problems of foreign policy that are also related to domestic issues. Foremost among these problems is, of course, the matter of trade and trade barriers on which the Eisenhower administration will need the votes of Democrats in Congress if the declared Eisenhower policy is to be put over.

In this gloomy view—gloomy, that is, to those who feel that a continuing Katzenjammer act is hopelessly destructive—Brownell and Chairman Leonard Hall of the Republican National Committee will conclude that more and bigger White cases will serve their purposes. They will thus go into the uneasy graveyard of the recent past and come up with a new skeleton whenever the prevailing excitement shows signs of damping down.

This will not be hard to do. In the secret FBI report made public by Brownell are many names. The individuals will not all be subject to the same type of treatment since in the Harry Dexter White case the principal as well as his immediate superior, Fred Vinson, secretary of the treasury at the time of the submission of the FBI reports, were both conveniently dead.

But the material is ample. Each case, embellished with new details from the confidential files of the FBI, can be translated into sensational headlines. One of the sensations to be heated up again, according to report, is that of Judith Coplon who was tried on espionage charges growing out of her relationship with a Russian agent. Evidence obtained by tapping telephone conversations was ruled out by the circuit court of appeals and Miss Coplon, a former employee, of the Department of Justice, went free.

In an atmosphere continuously charged in this fashion it is hard to see how any practical co-operation could be achieved in Congress for the measures needing the support of Democrats as well as most Republicans if they are to pass. The halls of Senate and House will reverberate with the same angry charges and the same indignant responses. Under such circumstances the legislative program made up of essential measures postponed from the last session will be mauled if not actually torn apart.

Other consequences are foreseeable. The FBI is bound to be drawn more and more into politics, its objectivity and therefore its usefulness impaired.

The larger consequences are even more damaging. American leadership is discredited. The democratic process is made to look impotent and even absurd. All this, it is hardly necessary to add, suits the Communists down to the ground. The propaganda material helpful to the goal of Communist imperialism is handed them in what the radio-TV world calls a package day after day.

In the second and hopeful answer to where it all ends when the immediate sensation of the White case is allowed to die down. More responsible members of the administration have for some time been aware of the dangerous backfire in the tactic used by Brownell. President Eisenhower made this clear at the press conference at which he was pressed so hard as to his views of the Brownell accusations.

In this second perspective the constructive force for which President Eisenhower seemed to stand as commander of the NATO forces and in the first phase of his candidacy is given predominance with leadership from the President himself. The essential bridge toward a bipartisan approach to many of the outstanding problems is rebuilt. The last will not be easy since great damage has already been done.

Speaking to the CIO convention in Cleveland, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles talked of the need for a confident and united America if this country is to carry out a constructive foreign policy pushing back the tide of Communism. Citing the opening paragraph of the Federalist Papers, Dulles said that it seems to have been reserved to the American people, by their conduct and example, to show the possibilities of a free society—an opportunity looked upon as one not merely for ourselves but for the benefit of all mankind. Nor, said the secretary, is lip service enough.

This was at the moment when spectacular televised hearings were proclaiming to the world the charge of treason brought against a former President of the United States. The Brownell technique may win elections. No one can at this time give a positive answer on that score one way or another. But it will not win victories for the West in the prolonged and difficult contest with the Communist conspiracy.

Values Of A Liberal Education

The Practical Value Of History

By DR. WALTER F. WRIGHT
Professor of English
University of Nebraska
(Eleventh of a series)

Through the study of history one mind is privileged to share in the experiences of countless other minds. When we consider the practical value of history we ultimately come back to this, its primary value.

There are other uses, too. Though history does not precisely repeat itself, we may find in situations in the past elements common to our own age and thus read the present trend more accurately and perhaps find hints on how to avoid disaster. With tyranny threatening the world and with fear leading to distrust of true democratic practices, we may turn back to the days of the Alien and Sedition Acts, to the repressive measures in Europe after 1815, or to the occasions when the Romans welcomed a strong man and repression in an attempt to prevent disaster to their empire and civil war at home.

Sometimes we find solace as we contemplate what in both ancient and recent times has seemed to be the inevitability of the fall of tyrants. There is the sobering recognition, however, that when one tyranny has been destroyed it has not always been supplanted by freedom, but has merely given way to another.

But reading history for present social application is only one of its uses, for every person is not only a responsible citizen in a state with concern for what may improve that state. Before he can be a good citizen, he must, first of all, be a thinking, imaginative being, anxious to glean and interpret as many significant experiences as he can during the uncertain span of his own personal life.

To live with no awareness of a past civilization is to be dwelling on a pinpoint of time. Those who know only what they themselves have seen happen may, if they live long enough, have interesting anecdotes to recall. But at best their understanding will be fragmentary, and their years will have been filled mainly with vast barren stretches, enlivened only here and there by a spot of green.

The development of Western Europe and of the United States is for most of us so much a part of our heritage that we can imagine with confidence the feelings and interests of our ancestors as we read their own words or study their lives and the features of the culture in which they lived. When studying history we must never abstract and generalize without also retaining an interest in the specific details, for the truth of our knowledge lies in our seeing as well as we can the whole scene.

It is for this reason that we value old letters, diaries, and journals, and all the artifacts which held us to see the authentic nature of an earlier life.

To the true historian, history has never meant the strawman concept of it as the mere memorization of data, though facts are indispensable; it has been an imaginative searching and a constant process of reconstruction. Whoever has a zeal to recreate, whether it be the history of his own valley or small town, the life of medieval France, or, perhaps more remote and difficult, the life of our American pre-Columbian civilizations or of those in the Orient—that person has the soul of a historian; and in the satisfaction which comes from knowledge he will find a lasting reward.

For he will not be the slave of the trivial and transitory, nor will he be shut in the tiny cell of his own personal life.

Little Town Folks

We were talking about the little towns that aren't even whistle stops, because there are no trains to stop there, and about the people who live in them, and what they do for amusement.

Two in the little group around our table were born to city life, and would have trouble telling you any real difference between a cow and a camel. One—the most successful of the four from a strictly material viewpoint—had spent his formative years in a small town. I was the fourth—a product of the west's high, lonely deserts.

"These little towns — they're miles from nowhere, with maybe a hundred people in them," mused one of the city-born pair. "How do they enjoy living? No shows, no night clubs, not even a tavern. They're too far from television, and there's one store in town that they've been through so often they know it by heart. It must be a dreary existence."

I thought of a family I know, the Gillespies—a man and his wife, and their two daughters, and a son. I met them years ago, when the oldest girl was nine, and had never seen a railroad train. They had a ranch in northern Arizona, 20 miles from a post office, almost 200 miles from the nearest town of a thousand population. I thought of how they knew the bluejays' habits, and the way a quail nests, and how they tamed the squirrels and watched the wild turkeys at play.

"The tragic thing is that those people are so out of touch," the other city-born man said. "The rest of the world is so far away from them. It's a wonder they even know how to vote, much less who for."

The Gillespies, I remembered, got their mail twice a week, and a book in every mail, and six newspapers, because they subscribed to two. They put the newspapers in order, and read them day by day from front to back, and the book they read aloud to the children, and then they talked about it—of what it said, and how it was written, and whether its ideas were good. I wondered how many of the rest of us read as much or have the time to understand it.

"The poor kids who grow up in those cross-road towns, what have they got to look forward to?" The first city-born man was speaking again.

The Gillespie daughters are married now, one to a New Mexico oil millionaire, and the other to a career diplomat in Washington, but they finished college before their marriages, and one graduated with highest scholastic honors, and the other was vice president of her class. The son is in college now; a great packing company wants to hire him when he graduates, but he is going back to the ranch and the folks.

"Well, it certainly isn't for me—not an existence as drab as those people must have," said the second city man.

I thought of the Gillespies, and the happiness they have found, and the culture and knowledge they've had time for, that the rest of us miss. I thought of telling the city-born ones about them, and then I didn't.

I didn't think they would understand. Too narrow a viewpoint. That's the trouble with city people.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The response to my request of Oct. 19 for support of the recent state-wide recruiting drive was most gratifying. The results achieved by the recruiting efforts in Lincoln reflect the splendid community co-operation that was given the Nebraska Air National Guard.

I wish to express my personal appreciation and that of the Nebraska Air National Guard for the helpful contribution made by The Lincoln Star to the successful campaign in the Lincoln area. Football Predictions

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have a hunch that the Rose Bowl this year will be Michigan State and UCLA. In any case, I have enjoyed the paper's coverage of Cornhusker games this season. There is only one thing on which I disagree with The Star and that is the No. 1 team in the state. I go along with the Islanders—could be wrong, but it is the best team I've watched in a number of years.

Extension Meet Told Of Ag Advances

W. Lambert Cites Need Education

Dean W. V. Lambert of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture Wednesday declared Nebraska agriculture has made more advances in the last 50 years thn it had in the previous 1,500 years.

Speaking before a group of some 200 county extension and home agents attending the 39th annual extension workers conference at the university, Dean Lambert predicted that the rapid rate of agricultural development will continue during the next half century.

These changes, he added, will make it imperative for extension workers to continually review their work to make certain they are meeting farm needs.

Another speaker Wednesday was L. C. Williams, dean and director of Kansas State College, who told extension workers to "Give the 4-H program its just recognition because it will pay you back 1,000 times."

He told the workers that there are many reasons for happiness in extension service work, such as the econmic security the extension service is promoting among farm families. He pointed to the great change in the attitude of farm people since the founding of the first demonstration farm 50 years ago, until now there is deep respect for the service.

"Extension education is becoming more and more recognized as a fundamental part of the complete land grand college program in that it is now recognized as the great extension educational arm of the College of Agriculture," he said.

At a Epsilon Sigma Phi meeting Wednesday afternoon in the faculty lounge of the Student Union five members were initiated. Only persons who have been in extension service for 10 years or more are eligible for membership.

The new members are: Harold Ingalls, Agriculture Extension Agent of Wayne County, Eugene Newton, Agriculture Extension Agent of the Ainsworth District; Mrs. Helen M. Gayer, Home Extension Agent of Sarpy County; Elvin Lawrence, Agriculture Extension Agent of Boone County, and John Reynolds, Agriculture Extension Agent of Box Butte County.

J. V. Cain, Agriculture Extension Agent from Saline County, is chief of the fraternity. Other officers are Home Economic Extension Specialists, Mrs. Clara Leopold, secretary-treasurer, and Helen Rocke, analyst.

At a dinner meeting of Epsilon Sigma Phi Wednesday night, Miss Eunice Heywood, Field Agent of the Extension Service U.S.D.A. was guest speaker.

Osceola Man Dies In Crash

State's '53 Fatalities Reach 300

OSCEOLA, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Alex Wobig, Osceola implement dealer,' was killed Wednesday afternoon in a two-car accident at a county intersection 11 miles west and two miles south of Osceola.

Wobig's car collided with one driven by Reuben Anderson of Polk. Anderson and his 4-year-old son, Dennis, were taken to a Stromsburg hospital and are both in a severe state of shock. Extent of their injuries has not been determined.

Wobig was thrown from his car and was dead when the ambulance arrived at the scene.

Alex Adelson, a farmer living near the scene of the crash, found the victims and wreckage about an hour after the accident is believed to have occurred.

Defendant In Papillion Murder Trial Ends His Life In Jail Cell

PAPILLION, Neb. (AP)—Sarpy County's first trial for first degree murder in 52 years came to a sudden end Wednesday morning when the defendant was found dead of a self-inflicted knife wound in his jail cell.

Sarpy County Sheriff Ernest Arp said he found the defendant, 46-year-old Dail Ford, LaPlatte, Neb., hog rancher, lying in a pool of blood. A three-inch gash had been cut on the inside of his left elbow with a razor blade.

Ford was on trial for the March 28 shooting of Robert Parfitt, 36, an employee, at Ford's ranch about a mile south of LaPlatte.

"Tuesday night when I took Ford his dinner he said he thought he would have a hard time getting out of the mess he was in but that he had no one to blame but himself," Sheriff Arp said.

The sheriff said he "didn't like the way he was talking so I took just about everything but his blankets and a book out of the cell. He has been allowed to shave himself since Sunday. I suppose he hid a blade."

Considered Changing Plea

Harry Welch, Ford's attorney, said he had been worried about Ford's mental condition for more than a week. He said he had seriously considered changing Ford's plea from innocent by reason of self defense to innocent because of insanity.

The jury hearing the case was dismissed Wednesday after the medical examiner told the court officially of Ford's death, expressing the opinion that the wound was self inflicted.

Defense Attorney Welsh in his opening statement to the jury said Ford shot his employee because he was "terribly afraid" that Parfitt was up to no good when he accompanied Ford and another man to Ford's home.

He said the men had been at the Silver Top Inn on Highway 75 and after arguing, Ford slipped out of the car at the bottom of an incline. The attorney said Ford beat the car home and in fear shot Parfitt with a rifle.

Osceola Man Dies In Crash

State's '53 Fatalities Reach 300

OSCEOLA, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Alex Wobig, Osceola implement dealer, was killed Wednesday afternoon in a two-car accident at a county intersection 11 miles west and two miles south of Osceola.

Wobig's car collided with one driven by Reuben Anderson of Polk. Anderson and his 4-year-old son, Dennis, were taken to a Stromsburg hospital and are both in a severe state of shock. Extent of their injuries has not been determined.

Thrown From Car

Wobig was thrown from his car and was dead when the ambulance arrived at the scene.

Alex Adelson, a farmer living near the scene of the crash, found the victims and wreckage about an hour after the accident is believed to have occurred.

Wobig bought the implement company at Osceola in June, 1950, coming here from Newman Grove where a son, Dean, operates another implement business. Another son, Glen, is an associate in the Osceola business. Two daughters also survive Wobig.

His death brings the 1953 highway fatality toll to 300 as compared to 296 at this time a year ago.

Defendant In Papillion Murder Trial Ends His Life In Jail Cell

PAPILLION, Neb. (AP)—Sarpy County's first trial for first degree murder in 52 years came to a sudden end Wednesday morning when the defendant was found dead of a self-inflicted knife wound in his jail cell.

Sarpy County Sheriff Ernest Arp said he found the defendant, 46-year-old Dail Ford, LaPlatte, Neb., hog rancher, lying in a pool of blood. A three-inch gash had been cut on the inside of his left elbow with a razor blade.

Ford was on trial for the March 28 shooting of Robert Parfitt, 36, an employee, at Ford's ranch about a mile south of LaPlatte.

"Tuesday night when I took Ford his dinner he said he thought he would have a hard time getting out of the mess he was in but that he had no one to blame but himself," Sheriff Arp said.

The sheriff said he "didn't like the way he was talking so I took just about everything but his blankets and a book out of the cell. He has been allowed to shave himself since Sunday. I suppose he hid a blade."

Considered Changing Plea

Harry Welch, Ford's attorney, said he had been worried about Ford's mental condition for more than a week. He said he had seriously considered changing Ford's plea from innocent by reason of self defense to innocent because of insanity.

The jury hearing the case was dismissed Wednesday after the medical examiner told the court officially of Ford's death, expressing the opinion that the wound was self inflicted.

Defense Attorney Welsh in his opening statement to the jury said Ford shot his employee because he was "terribly afraid" that Parfitt was up to no good when he accompanied Ford and another man to Ford's home.

He said the men had been at the Silver Top Inn on Highway 75 and after arguing, Ford slipped out of the car at the bottom of an incline. The attorney said Ford beat the car home and in fear shot Parfitt with a rifle.

Help for dry hair

BY CAROL DOUGLAS

Are you unhappy with your hair because it is dry and brittle? Now there is an easy way to make dry hair softer, easier to manage, prettier in every way. Just use Tame, the new invisible hairdressing.

Tame conditions your hair in a wonderful new way. You don't spray it on. You don't smear it on. You rinse it on. And that makes a marvelous difference. Every dry, brittle strand is completely and evenly covered with a delicate, transparent solution that's like nature's own oils. Yet, it never leaves your hair greasy or stiff. Tame makes dry, frizzy hair silkier, easier to arrange. It gives dull, lifeless-looking hair a healthy shine.

Use Tame after every shampoo and home permanent, too. You'll find Tame at your favorite toiletries counter in 30c, 60c, and $1 00 sizes plus Fed. tax. No matter how dry your hair is right now, it can be lovelier than you have thought possible.

Nixon To Soften U.S. 'Get Tough' Japan Approach

Rebuilding Advice To Be Given

TOKYO (Thursday) (AP)—Vice President Nixon will tell the Japanese today that the United States miscalculated in tearing down Japan's military strength after the war, it was reported reliably.

Informed sources said Nixon in a major speech will ask Japan to correct the miscalculation by rebuilding its military forces for its own protection against Communism.

This, it was learned, will be a major point in a speech partly designed to ,soften the "get tough" approach to Japanese rearmament recently voiced by Secretary of State Dulles and Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader.

Informed sources said the speech will be the first public acknowledgement by a high American official that the United States made a miscalculation in junking Japan's military machine in 1945-1946.

They added that Nixon will tell an American-Japan society luncheon the Communist menace has softened opposition in the United States to a revived Japanese war machine.

Dragging Feet

Both Dulles and Knowland have said the Japanese are dragging their feet on rearmament. Knowland added that he would insist upon reviewing the aid given Japan if faster progress were not made.

Nixon will take the line that changed circumstances require the Japanese to rebuild a protective force, without trying to tell them how to do it, the informants said.

Top Japanese political and business leaders will be present as Nixon also discusses such controversial other subjects as expanded trade for Japan.

The Vice President last night brushed aside reports that he intends to mediate a growing Japan-Korea controversy. He told newsmen he had come to the Far East with "no diplomatic packages or deals to sell."

Fishing Rights

At the same time it was learned Nixon considers the tightening Japan-Korea impasse over fishing rights and other postwar questions as vitally important. He is collecting full information from both Japanese and Korean officials to report to President Eisenhower.

It was learned that Nixon is discussing these main questions besides rearmament in talks with Japanese political and economic leaders:·

1. The Korea-Japan controversy, which has become an intense emotional issue in both countries and which Nixon has been told is more important than generally realized in the United States.

2. The need for expanded Japanese trade with the United States, southeast Asia, South America and similar fields.

3. Communist strength in Japan.

4. The reported growth of anti-Americanism among the Japanese.

Posts May Be Filled Soon

Gov. Robert Crosby said Wednesday that it is possible that four appointments to state boards can be announced this week, depending on acceptances being received from those tendered the posts.

One would be a member of the Normal Board to replace Edwin D. Crites of Chadron, who died earlier this month. Three persons, all of Chadron, have been recommended to him, the Governor said.

The other appointments would be to the turnpike authority. Two of the appointments have been decided upon, the Governor said, but the third was only offered the post Wednesday after another person had been forced to decline after considering the appointment for three weeks.

The Governor said it now appears that the authority may require more time than was originally expected. The Legislature did not appropriate any funds in the belief that immediate action would not be necessary.

"Late reports are that Illinois is about ready to act on their segment of a transcontinental highway," the governor said. "This may require consideration by the Nebraska authority."

If the Illinois route should point across Iowa, it will be a problem for Nebraska to consider. If it points to St. Louis, which is anxious to have it, Nebraska would be left out.

Proponents of the legislation, argued at the last session of the Legislature that they wanted the state "to be ready to act if a toll road came knocking at our door."

While giving the authority no operating funds, the Legislature authorized them to issue revenue bonds to finance construction of toll roads.

Big Transport Blows A Tire; Four Are Hurt

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (INS) — A chartered C-46 transport plane blew a tire while taking off from Cheyenne Airport Wednesday, but only one of 37 GI passengers and three crewmen suffered injury.

The plane blew a tire and skidded crazily down the runway, coming to a screeching halt more than a quarter of a mile from where the tire exploded.

The 37 returning European area veterans calmly walked from the plane with their baggage.

The plane was en route to Tacoma, Wash., where the soldiers were to be separated from service at a nearby army post.

Nixon To Soften U.S. 'Get Tough' Japan Approach

Rebuilding Advice To Be Given

TOKYO (Thursday) (AP)—Vice President Nixon will tell the Japanese today that the United States miscalculated in tearing down Japan's military strength after the war, it was reported reliably.

Informed sources said Nixon in a major speech will ask Japan to correct the miscalculation by rebuilding its military forces for its own protection against Communism.

This, it was learned, will be a major point in a speech partly designed to ,soften the "get tough" approach to Japanese rearmament recently voiced by Secretary of State Dulles and Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader.

Informed sources said the speech will be the first public acknowledgement by a high American official that the United States made a miscalculation in junking Japan's military machine in 1945-1946.

They added that Nixon will tell an American-Japan society luncheon the Communist menace has softened opposition in the United States to a revived Japanese war machine.

Dragging Feet

Both Dulles and Knowland have said the Japanese are dragging their feet on rearmament. Knowland added that he would insist upon reviewing the aid given Japan if faster progress were not made.

Nixon will take the line that changed circumstances require the Japanese to rebuild a protective force, without trying to tell them how to do it, the informants said.

Top Japanese political and business leaders will be present as Nixon also discusses such controversial other subjects as expanded trade for Japan.

The Vice President last night brushed aside reports that he intends to mediate a growing Japan-Korea controversy. He told newsmen he had come to the Far East with "no diplomatic packages or deals to sell."

Fishing Rights

At the same time it was learned Nixon considers the tightening Japan-Korea impasse over fishing rights and other postwar questions as vitally important. He is collecting full information from both Japanese and Korean officials to report to President Eisenhower.

It was learned that Nixon is discussing these main questions besides rearmament in talks with Japanese political and economic leaders:·

1. The Korea-Japan controversy, which has become an intense emotional issue in both countries and which Nixon has been told is more important than generally realized in the United States.

2. The need for expanded Japanese trade with the United States, southeast Asia, South America and similar fields.

3. Communist strength in Japan.

4. The reported growth of anti-Americanism among the Japanese.

Chief Justice, Mrs. Simmons Were Guests Of Magsaysays

The crushing victory of President-elect Ramon Magsaysay in the recent elections of the Philippine Islands recalled to Nebraska Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons a visit in Manila with the man who as defense minister was then nearing a crushing victory over the Communist-led Huks in the Philippines.

Judge and Mrs. Simmons visited in the Manila home of President-elect and Mrs. Magsaysay on Aug. 15, 1952.

Judge Simmons, who was on a mission for the U.S. Department of State, was guest speaker at the Manila Rotary Club meeting, where Magsaysay was presented a distinguished service award. The defense minister invited Judge Simmons to address the senior officers of the Philippine Army.

Judge Simmons found Magsaysay to be "a man of complete sincerity, humility, unquestioned courage and honesty. Everyone conceded that."

"Without doubt," Judge Simmons said in referring to the recent election, "he has captured the imagination of the Philippine people."

Judge Simmons recalled the words Magsaysay used in accepting the Manila club's award and which he was later to see boldly-inscribed and framed in the Magsaysay home:

"If I were to try to read, much less answer, all the attacks made on me, this shop might as well be closed for any other business. I do the very best I know how—the very best I can; and I mean to keep doing so until the end. If the end brings me out all right what is said against me won't amount to anything. If the end brings me out wrong ten angels swearing I was right will make no difference."

U.S. Grange Asks Government Efficiency Increase

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — The National Grange Wednesday called upon the Eisenhower administration to balance the federal budget and suggested this could be done by increasing governmental efficiency.

The 87th annual session of the nation's oldest farm organization also urged Congress to oppose proposals to raise the national debt limit above the present 275 billion dollar level "beyond what may be required to care for expenditures authorized by Congress in previous years."

In a resolution approved by delegates from 37 states, the Grange said it believed the federal budget "can be balanced and kept in balance, except during an all-out war, if the essential activities of government are conducted efficiently."

Meanwhile, the farm convention heard Lieut. Gen. Joseph Smith, commanding general of the Military Air Transport Service, declare that this country must build and maintain an Air Force second to none.

"We hope we will never have to use our weapons of war," he said. "But until the leaders of the world succeed in working out a foolproof, enforceable system or world-wide disarmament, we must build and maintain an air force second to none."

Forced By Enemy

Smith, in answering a question as to whether the U.S. can provide military strength cheaply, said:

"Expenditures (for defence) are governed by scientific advances and modernization of arms as well as the competition that is inevitably forced on us by the enemy."

A committee worked on a farm program proposal scheduled to be laid before Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson at the convention's closing session Thursday.

Spokesmen indicated it will not offer full endorsement of a system of flexible price supports Benson has favored in the past and being pressed by officials of a rival farm group, the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Under such a system farm price floors would be high in times of shortages to encourage production and low in times of surpluses to discourage production.

However, the Grange program was expected to pledge support to Benson's idea that greater efforts should be made to enlarge export markets for crops by means of a two-price system and lowering of trade restrictions. Under a two-price system, surpluses would be offered abroad at prices below those at which farm products would be supported in this country.

Bids On Two New State Buildings OKd

Two new state buildings, one at Hastings and the other at Holdrege, moved a step nearer, Wednesday when bids for construction were approved.

Low bids on a new medical-surgical building at the Hastings state hospital totaled $720,711. The building will have beds to care for 200 medical and surgical cases who are also mentally ill.

Geer-Maurer, Grand Island, were low bidders on the general contract at $503,997 and Stewart Plumbing & Heating Co., Hastings, on the mechanical at $136,975. Guarantee Electric Co., Hastings, was low on electrical work at $50,099 and Wright & Mack, Omaha, on elevators at $29,640.

With equipment the total cost of the new building is expected to reach $850,000. The new building will replace the old hospital which will be remodeled and reconditioned as a ward building.

The board of control announced that they have approved bids at about $14,000 for X-rays and accessories for immediate delivery to the hospital and which later will be transferred to the new building.

Bids were also opened for a new armory at Holdrege to house Co. C, 195th tank battalion. Busboom & Rauch were low bidders for the completed structure at $138,215. The building will be about 110x120 feet

Gen. Guy N. Henninger said the national guard company is now housed in the city auditorium, but citizens want the space for a youth center. As an inducement to the state to build their own building, the business men of Holdrege have contributed $20,000.

It's Gay--It's Interesting--It's Fun--It's News

THE TOWN is filled with news—and the news is filled with everything interesting and gay—current and potential guests—parties—utterly charming brides-elect and their prenuptial courtesies—All in all it's a great morning and five weeks from tomorrow is Christmas!

But as much as we love the holiday season we have our hands full of other fun matters at the moment—

* * *

WE JUST this instant heard that Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Sidles will be having guests this week end—Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Miller Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Simpson Jr., of Kansas City, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Piper of Denver.

All three couples will arrive on Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Simpson to be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sidles—and Mr. and Mrs. Piper, the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stein.

* * *

ON SATURDAY Mr. and Mrs. Sidles will honor the visitors when they are host and hostess at a 6 o'clock-to-8 o'clock post-game party at their home to which a small group of guests has been invited.

* * *

NUMEROUS out of town guests will be arriving today and tomorrow for the wedding of Miss Harriet Wenke and James R. Campbell which will be solemnized on Saturday evening at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Campbell's mother, Mrs. William Hill Campbell; his sister, Miss Barbara Campbell—and his brother, Bill Campbell, all come today from Sheridan, Wyo.

And arriving on Friday from Ft. Collins, Colo., will be the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wenke and their two daughters, Mary Alice and Susan; her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wenke of Pender; her aunt, Mrs. E. B. Ailey of Omaha; and the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thomsen of Grand Island.

On Friday evening Judge and Mrs. Adolph Wenke will preside at dinner at Hotel Cornhusker in prenuptial courtesy to their daughter and Mr. Campbell.

* * *

HAVE SOME more news of the brides-to-be, but right now we want to tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howell Jr., of Palm Beach, Fla., are expected early next week, and that they will be the Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Meyer. There also is the possibility that Mr. Howell's mother, Mrs. Thomas Howell of Chicago, will be in town for the Thanksgiving holiday, but as yet her plans are indefinite.

* * *

HEARD, too, that Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Gleason of Kerryville, Tex., are spending the week in Lincoln and that when they return home this week end they will be accompanied by Mrs. Gleason's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Raymond, who have been spending the football season in Lincoln.

* * *

NOW BACK to the brides' book and some courtesies for one of our very popular December brides, Miss Mary Margaret Loomis who is to marry Richard Moulton, Sunday, Dec. 27. 27.

Last evening Miss Loomis was complimented when Mr. and Mrs. J. Knox Jones were a dinner host and hostess at their home. Only the members of families were included in the guest list, and the honoree was presented with a host and hostess gift.

* * *

A DAY or two ago we mentioned the mother-daughter luncheon for which Mrs. Lloyd Corp and her daughter, Mrs. Bryce Crawford, III, of Omaha—and Mrs. Myron D. Noble and her daughter, Miss Virginia Noble, would be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Corp—on Friday, Nov. 27.

But we find that there is scarcely a moment that week-end that will not be devoted to Miss Loomis—

On Saturday, Nov. 28, for instance, Miss Loomis is to be the incentive for an 11 o'clock brunch when Mrs. Ellis Mockett and her daughter, Miss Anne Mockett will be hostesses at their home. A hostess gift will be presented to the bride elect.

* * *

PLANS FOR another Saturday party for Miss Loomis are in the making—and we'll tell you about it later—However we do know that on Sunday Miss Loomis is to be complimented by Mrs. James Stuart who has invited 12 guests—all Delta Gamma sisters—for a 10:30 o'clock coffee at her home. The bride-to-be will be presented with a hostess gift.

UNDERSTAND that Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Roberts left on Wednesday for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will spend Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays with their daughter, Ann Roberts Foersom.

The Rev. Loren E. Daly, uncle of the bride, read the lines of the 4 o'clock service in the presence of the members of the immediate families.

It's Gay--It's Interesting--It's Fun--It's News

THE TOWN is filled with news—and the news is filled with everything interesting and gay—current and potential guests—parties—utterly charming brides-elect and their prenuptial courtesies—All in all it's a great morning and five weeks from tomorrow is Christmas!

But as much as we love the holiday season we have our hands full of other fun matters at the moment—

* * *

WE JUST this instant heard that Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Sidles will be having guests this week end—Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Miller Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Simpson Jr., of Kansas City, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Piper of Denver.

All three couples will arrive on Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Simpson to be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sidles—and Mr. and Mrs. Piper, the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stein.

* * *

ON SATURDAY Mr. and Mrs. Sidles will honor the visitors when they are host and hostess at a 6 o'clock-to-8 o'clock post-game party at their home to which a small group of guests has been invited.

* * *

NUMEROUS out of town guests will be arriving today and tomorrow for the wedding of Miss Harriet Wenke and James R. Campbell which will be solemnized on Saturday evening at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Campbell's mother, Mrs. William Hill Campbell; his sister, Miss Barbara Campbell—and his brother, Bill Campbell, all come today from Sheridan, Wyo.

And arriving on Friday from Ft. Collins, Colo., will be the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wenke and their two daughters, Mary Alice and Susan; her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wenke of Pender; her aunt, Mrs. E. B. Alley of Omaha; and the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thomsen of Grand Island.

On Friday evening Judge and Mrs. Adolph Wenke will preside at dinner at Hotel Cornhusker in prenuptial courtesy to their daughter and Mr. Campbell.

* * *

HAVE SOME more news of the brides-to-be, but right now we want to tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howell Jr., of Palm Beach, Fla., are expected early next week, and that they will be the Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Meyer. There also is the possibility that Mr. Howell's mother, Mrs. Thomas Howell of Chicago, will be in town for the Thanksgiving holiday, but as yet her plans are indefinite.

* * *

HEARD, too, that Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Gleason of Kerryville, Tex., are spending the week in Lincoln and that when they return home this week end they will be accompanied by Mrs. Gleason's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Raymond, who have been spending the football season in Lincoln.

* * *

NOW BACK to the brides' book and some courtesies for one of our very popular December brides, Miss Mary Margaret Loomis who is to marry Richard Moulton, Sunday, Dec. 27. 27.

Last evening Miss Loomis was complimented when Mr. and Mrs. J. Knox Jones were a dinner host and hostess at their home. Only the members of families were included in the guest list, and the honoree was presented with a host and hostess gift.

* * *

A DAY or two ago we mentioned the mother-daughter luncheon for which Mrs. Lloyd Corp and her daughter, Mrs. Bryce Crawford, III, of Omaha—and Mrs. Myron D. Noble and her daughter, Miss Virginia Noble, would be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Corp—on Friday, Nov. 27.

But we find that there is scarcely a moment that week-end that will not be devoted to Miss Loomis—

On Saturday, Nov. 28, for instance, Miss Loomis is to be the incentive for an 11 o'clock brunch when Mrs. Ellis Mockett and her daughter, Miss Anne Mockett will be hostesses at their home. A hostess gift will be presented to the bride elect.

* * *

PLANS FOR another Saturday party for Miss Loomis are in the making—and we'll tell you about it later—However we do know that on Sunday Miss Loomis is to be complimented by Mrs. James Stuart who has invited 12 guests—all Delta Gamma sisters—for a 10:30 o'clock coffee at her home. The bride-to-be will be presented with a hostess gift.

UNDERSTAND that Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Roberts left on Wednesday for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will spend Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays with their daughter, Ann Roberts Foersom.

City Water Board's Resignation 'Reluctantly Accepted'

New Group Possibility Is Studied

The City Council has met in special session to "reluctantly accept" the resignations of members of the Water Advisory Board and to consider the possibility of appointing a successor group.

In their letter of resignation, board members stated, "We have completed the duties assigned to us under resolution of the Council approved July 7, 1952, creating the board for the purpose of making recommendation as to improvements, extensions and enlargements of the water works plant and system."

Not Swayed

Mayor Clark Jeary stated that members felt they have fulfilled the purpose for which they were appointed and would not be swayed by requests from the Council to continue as an official group.

The question now, said Jeary, is whether or not the Council wants to name another board to help carry out the letting of all contracts for the expansion program. If such a group is to be named, he said, it should be done before a contract is let on the $3.8 million water transmission line from Ashland to Lincoln.

In moving approval of the resolution accepting the board's resignation, Jeary stated that "with our form of government, it is impossible for the city to operate without the services of citizens groups. This board is an outstanding example of what can be achieved with such groups."

'Invaluable Service'

The resolution of acceptance resolved that "the names of Byron Dunn (board chairman), William I. Aitken, E. L. Smith, T. A. Sick and O. J. Ferguson be shown upon the permanent records of this city as citizens who have rendered an invaluable service to their community."

The Council failed to reach a decision on the appointment of another board and will consider the issue again at Monday's regular meeting.

Lincoln Jaycees won the traveling plaque for community safety service this year, the first time it was given.

Retirement Of S.D. Federal Judge Is Reported Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Dakota congressional sources said Wednesday they had heard that Federal Judge A. Lee Wyman of Sioux Falls, S. D., has asked for retirement because of physical disability.

They said, however, they were unable to confirm the report.

The Justice Department's press information man said the department has not received a retirement request from the judge.

Wyman, who is 79, has cancelled several recent court sessions because of illness.

Because of Wyman's age and the number of cases pending in his court, the South Dakota senators sought in the last session of Congress to obtain a temporary judge for the state.

The proposal was that the state be allowed an additional judge so long as Wyman lived or remained on the bench. Upon his death, or retirement, his post would not be filled. A bill calling for this, and for the additional judges in other states, passed the Senate but not the House.

Lincoln-County Health Department's Open House Previews State Meeting

Open houses at the Lincoln-Lancaster Health Department and the Nebraska Department of Health touched off Wednesday evening the two-day Nebraska Public Health Association meeting in Lincoln.

Dr James P. Tollman, dean of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine will deliver an address at 10:30 a.m. on the "Public Health Needs of Nebraska."

Dr Tollman will also address the Thursday noon meeting of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Advisory Health Council. He will evaluate the Council's work in public health for the preceding year.

Highlighting the afternoon session will be two panels. The first will be on "Rural Water Supplies" with M. L. Mumgaard, university extension engineer, as moderator. Panel members will be J. F. Erdei, bacteriologist from Omaha; Dr. Paul M. Bancroft of Lincoln; and Jeanette Debus, state Department of Health chemist.

The second panel will be on "Chemistry and the Public Health" with Dr. Victor Levine of Creighton University as moderator. Members of the panel are John Schenken, M. D., Omaha pathologist, Lewis Harris, chemist from Lincoln and Robert Fisk, an Omaha attorney.

Timmy Will Get Bike

BELEN, N. M. (INS)—A 10-year-old Indian boy who used his savings to buy presents for King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece will get a bicycle from the Greek community of Albuquerque. Timmy Whitecloud of the Indian Pueblo at Albuquerque was so impressed with the royal couple in Belen that he took the money he had been saving for a bicycle and bought Indian bracelets for the queen and the couple's children at home in Greece. The Greek community announced Timmy will get his bike anyway.

Retirement Of S.D. Federal Judge Is Reported Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Dakota congressional sources said Wednesday they had heard that Federal Judge A. Lee Wyman of Sioux Falls, S. D., has asked for retirement because of physical disability.

They said, however, they were unable to confirm the report.

The Justice Department's press information man said the department has not received a retirement request from the judge.

Wyman, who is 79, has cancelled several recent court sessions because of illness.

Because of Wyman's age and the number of cases pending in his court, the South Dakota senators sought in the last session of Congress to obtain a temporary judge for the state.

The proposal was that the state be allowed an additional judge so long as Wyman lived or remained on the bench. Upon his death, or retirement, his post would not be filled. A bill calling for this, and for the additional judges in other states, passed the Senate but not the House.

Lincoln-County Health Department's Open House Previews State Meeting

Open houses at the Lincoln-Lancaster Health Department and the Nebraska Department of Health touched off Wednesday evening the two-day Nebraska Public Health Association meeting in Lincoln.

The convention proper will begin Thursday with registration at the Lincoln Hotel from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. Gov. Robert Crosby will address the first general session, speaking on "Public Health and Government." Lewis E. Harris, president of the association, will also deliver an address.

Dr. James P. Tollman, dean of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine will deliver an address at 10:30 a.m. on the "Public Health Needs of Nebraska."

Dr. Tollman will also address the Thursday noon meeting of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Advisory Health Council. He will evaluate the Council's work in public health for the preceding year.

Highlighting the afternoon session will be two panels. The first will be on "Rural Water Supplies" with M. L. Mumgaard, university extension engineer, as moderator. Panel members will be J. F. Erdei, bacteriologist from Omaha; Dr. Paul M. Bancroft of Lincoln; and Jeanette Debus, state Department of Health chemist.

The second panel will be on "Chemistry and the Public Health" with Dr. Victor Levine of Creighton University as moderator. Members of the panel are John Schenken, M. D., Omaha pathologist; Lewis Harris, chemist from Lincoln; and Robert Fisk, an Omaha attorney.

Public health films will be shown following the panels. A smorgasbord and dancing will wind up the day's activities.

Airing Waived In Hastings Murder Case

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—Frank Martin, 39, an inmate at the Hastings State Hospital, waived preliminary hearing on a first degree murder charge in County Court Wednesday.

He was bound over to District Court. No dates were set for future steps.

Martin was accused of the fatal beating of Peter Reisback, 68, of Gering, another inmate, early Sunday.

Adams County Attorney Richard E. Hunter said the purpose of filing the first degree murder complaint is to bring the matter of Martin's legal competency (ability to distinguish between right and wrong,) to intelligibly assst in the preparation of a defense, and to understand the nature of the charge before the court.

The District Court will determine if Martin is sufficiently competent to stand trial.

Three hospital staff psychiatrists testified at a coroner's inquest into Reisbeck's death that in their opinion Martin was neither medically or legally competent.

Reisbeck was found lying in a pool of blood in his room. His room adjoined Martin's.

No Decision Sighted In Brooklyn Guessing Game

More Names Listed As Managerial Candidates

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Who is going to manage Brooklyn? The Dodger guessing game is sweeping the town. Lucky Buck, scrabble and office polls are old hat. Even Chuck Dressen, the ex-manager got in on the act.

Almost everybody out of a job, except Harry Truman, has been mentioned as "the leading candidate" by some shadowy source. Everybody, that is, except Rogers Hornsby. Nobody came up with that one—yet.

Three New York Morning papers Wednesday came up with three different names. An afternoon paper featured byline writers on "I'd like to see—manage the Dodgers."

If Walter O'Malley, the club president, and his two vice-presidents, Buzzy Bavasi and Fresno Thompson, want publicity, they're getting it. Now that the local football season is about finished, they can have the run of the sheet.

In the face of the recurrent rumors, O'Malley stands firm. "No manager has been named," he said. "I don't know when we will decide. I can't tell you how many are under consideration. When we make our choice, we'll call a press conference and let (not leave) you know."

This has been the Dodger stand all the way. The story that Pee Wee Reese declined a player-manager job leaked out. No other names have been mentioned officially. Dressen was on the Reese bandwagon until the ride ended.

Ken Smith, in the New York Daily Mirror, Wednesday reported Walter Alston, Montreal manager, would get the job according to "a source close to the Ebbets Field inner headquarters."

The New York Daily News' Dick Young got on the phone to call Bill Terry at his auto agency in Jacksonville, Fla., to learn Terry might be interested in a two-year (but no one-year) contract.

Young quoted Terry as saying, "I have not been approached but even if he (O'Malley) was interested in me, I wouldn't be interested in a deal like a one-year contract."

Roscoe McGowen, for many years the New York Times' man on the Dodger beat, wrote that Fresco Thompson, the veepee in charge of farm clubs, had become the leading, but reluctant, candidate.

In the afternoon paper field, Jerry Mitchell of the New York Post reported Cookie Lavagetto, former coach and player, held the greatest fan appeal in terms of letters received at the Brooklyn office.

The World Telegram and Sun polled its own baseball writers and came up with three different choices.

Dan Daniel chose Eddie Sawyer "because he is familiar with the National League, is a good disciplinarian, knows how to handle men and has a pennant background."

Joe King picked Lefty O'Doul for his World Series potential on the basis of "magnetic leadership" and a fine job in past Pacific Coast League playoffs.

Bill Roedder selected Jackie Robinson because of baseball sense, leadership, familiarity with team, "winningness" and ability to provide good copy for the writers.

And that's not all. Frankie Frisch, Billy Herman, Luke Sewell, Marty Marion. In fact, pick a name.

Our candidate? That's easy. Jake Pitler (ex-coach).

We Want Glassford
NEBR NEEDS GLASSFORD

Remember This Scene Of Four Years Ago?

It was after Coach Bill Glassford's 1949 season at Nebraska in 1950 that Pittsburgh University attempted to hire away the Husker coach. Cornhusker students, brandishing various signs of "We Want Bill," swarmed the Coliseum and stayed outside until the coach himself (as shown above) made an appearance. Glassford promised them that he would stay. The scene is interesting these days, as the howl of wolves is heard outside the Husker plant. (Star Photo.)

(Albert J. Anonymous contributes two poems which carry a high message, both to aspiring preppers and to mature collegians. We dedicated Mr. A. J. A.'s words to the Huskers on the eve of their seasonal windup meeting with mighty Oklahoma.)

Hard Knocks

I'm not the man to say that failure's sweet,
Nor tell a chap to laugh when things go wrong;
I know it hurts to have to take defeat
An' no one likes to lose before a throng;
It isn't very pleasant not to win
When you have done the very best you could;
But if you're down, get up an' buckle in—
A lickin' often does a fellow good.

I've seen some chaps who never knew their power
Until somebody knocked 'em to the floor;
I've known men who discovered in an hour
A courage they had never shown before.
I've seen 'em rise from failure to the top
By doin' things they hadn't understood.
Hard knocks are painful things,
But stop—
A lickin' often does a fellow good.

Success is not the teacher, wise an' true,
That gruff old failure is, remember that;
She's much too apt to make a fool of you.
Which isn't true of blows that knock you flat.
Hard knocks are painful things an' hard to bear,
An' most of us would dodge 'em if we could;
There's something mighty broadening in care—
A lickin' often does a fellow good.

Teamwork

If you're center on a football team
And the halfbacks can't call signals,
But a lot on him depends;
And the tackle doesn't take the ball,
And the ends don't hit the line,
But they all are important, and
Their duties intertwine;
For what good is a halfback
If the tackles do not hold?
And the end will be a detriment
Unless he does as told;
And unless the center snaps the ball
At just the time and place,
The teamwork of the whole is gone,
A sure sign of disgrace.
And so it is in other things,
Whate'er our job may be,
If major one, or minor one,
Where results we cannot see.
We do our part and don't complain,
Because our praise is less,
We bring on teamwork of the whole,
A sure sign of success.

Charles Caldwell, Princeton coach, recently named the most outstanding football player he had ever coached. He was an Omaha Benson boy, name of Homer Smith.

"Homer is an unusual fullback in that he has all of the breakaway qualities looked for in a fullback," says Caldwell. "He is an excellent ball-carrier in every respect and is a great linebacker."

Smith's furious running has directly accounted for Princeton's last four wins. He is rated the outstanding fullback in the East and will be making a few of the All-America teams.

The 187-pounder, whose wife, Kathryn Haskell, is a former Nebraska co-ed, nearly matriculated at the Husker institution.

"I wanted to attend Nebraska, but my mother wanted me to come back east where I had attended prep school," Homer said recently.

Hearing of Smith's feats and watching the quick, incisive bursts of Lincoln's Joe Arenas in the televised 49ers-Browns game Sunday, brought out this thought:

What if those two chaps, along with two more who were once on the Huskers campus for a look-see (Carrol Hardy of Colorado and Buddy Leake of Oklahoma) had all ended up wearing the raiment of the Scarlet?

We can dream, can't we?

Kitzelman Out For Season

Britt, Kripal Draw Starting Berths

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Two Nebraska linemen will see their first starting assignments Saturday against Oklahoma.

Ted Britt, 200-pound North Platte senior, will draw the nod at center.

Tom Kripal, 195-pound junior from Omaha South, has been tabbed to open at left guard.

Neither performer has ever started a Husker game.

Designed to increase defensive efficiency, the move finds Britt replacing Bob Oberlin and Kripal in place of Jerry Paulson.

Coach Bill Glassford made the announcement Wednesday as he sent the Huskers through a long dummy scrimmage.

The remainder of the lineup will be identical with the starters against Colorado, thus: Andy Loehr and Bill Schabacker, ends; Jerry Minnick and Ted Connor, tackles; Bob Wagner, guard; John Bordogna, quarterback; Jon McWilliams and Bob Smith, halfbacks, and Ray Novak, fullback.

Guard Max Kitzelman, who sprained an ankle three weeks ago, has been pronounced through for the season.

Asked about reports from Norman that 17 Sooners are flu-stricken, Glassford commented: "Don't worry. They'll be ready by Saturday."

Nebraska catches Oklahoma at a dangerous vacuum in the Sooner schedule and the Oklahoma coaches are reportedly working hard trying to prevent a let-down in squad morale similar to that ahead of the Pittsburgh game. The Sooners have already cinched the Big Seven title and an Orange Bowl bid and fear they may be fair prey for an upset.

Oklahoma is fourth nationally this week in the Associated Press poll and fifth in the United Press poll and wants to preserve its record of being the only team in the land to finish in the AP's top ten for six seasons in a row.

Coach Wilkinson will choose his fullbacks carefully this week when he selects his 36-man traveling squad to Cornhuskerland. All five regular fullbacks—Tom Carroll, Robert Burris, Jerry Donaghey, Wray Littlejohn and John Compton are physically unsound.

Burris has a pinched neck nerve and got into only two plays against Iowa State. Donaghey emerged from the Cyclone tilt with a stiff knee. Littlejohn has a knee strain. Carroll was lost for the season against Iowa State last week when he re-hurt his knee. Compton dislocated a shoulder in practice recently and is out for the year. Quarterback Jack Van Pool finished up the Iowa State game at fullback.

End Kay Keller, victim of a freak accident in dummy scrimmage before the Missouri game, is out for the year. Guard J. D. Roberts, who was held out of the Iowa State game to let his injured shoulder heal, can play against Nebraska, it is believed. The Iowa State game was the first Roberts has missed in his life.

The Oklahoma traveling squad will fly to Lincoln by chartered plane, arriving in time for a 2 p.m. workout at the Nebraska stadium Friday. The Sooners will be quartered at the Lincoln hotel and fly home after the game.

Fifteen of the players were stricken Tuesday. Sophomore Tackle Bob Loughridge and End Kay Keller were reported ailing Wednesday. Keller, however, is expected to be out for the season because of chest bruise.

Co-Capt. and Tackle Roger Nelson was released from the university infirmary Wednesday but was told to "go home and get a lot of sleep." He was the only player hospitalized. The others were under care of trainer Ken Rawlinson.

"I believe the boys will be able to play Saturday but they will miss two important practice sessions and may be in a weakened condition for the game," Wilkinson said.

The Oklahoma coach said he planned to check the condition of the players at noon to determine if any would be able to appear on the practice field to go over play assignments.

The sudden illness sidelined halfbacks Larry Grigg and Jack Ging; tackles Melvin Brown and Nelson and end Carl Allison.

It's the final league test for the Sooners who close their regular season here Nov. 28 against Oklahoma A&M, Missouri Valley Conference leaders. Nebraska ends its year with the Oklahoma battle.

Rowe Named Coach

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers Wednesday confirmed they have completed their coaching staff for next season with the addition of Schoolboy Rowe.

Top End To LeadHawks In Irish Go

IOWA CITY, Ia. (AP)—Iowa's big Bill Fenton, whose rugged end play in Iowa's unexpectedly top-heavy 27-0 victory over Minnesota earned him honors as the Associated Press lineman of the week, is hoping for another Hawkeye surprise against Notre Dame Saturday.

The senior end, who blends exceptional pre-medical school grades with outstanding athletic ability, said "we definitely have a chance against Notre Dame."

Iowa, with a 5-3 record and shooting for its best season since the fabulous ironmen of 1939, plays the nation's No. 1 team at South Bend. It will be the final game for Fenton in three years of Iowa stardom.

The Iowa City boy grew up around the University athletic plant. He captained the 1952 team and last year was selected as AP's lineman of the week for his part in Iowa's 8-0 shock of Ohio State.

"It certainly is a great honor to be selected lineman of the week, especially for a second time," Fenton said. "However, I certainly didn't expect it because every one of our men played exceptionally well and I don't see how any one could be singled out."

Bill also had praise for his Minnesota foe, All-America Paul Giel, who made only 13 yards by rushing against the Hawks.

"Giel definitely was one of the best backs we've faced this year. He is shifty and elusive. He slipped away from me a couple of times when I had him trapped for losses."

Bucceroni Pounds Beshore For TKO

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Favored Dan Bucceroni, a ranking heavyweight contender from Philadelphia, used aging Freddie Beshore of Los Angeles for a punching bag for seven rounds Wednesday night and then stopped him on a technical knockout in the eighth. Bucceroni weighed 188½ and Beshore 194.

A national audience of television fans saw the scheduled 10 round fight but only a smattering of several thousand ventured into the Olympic Auditorium to witness it in person.

Referee Joe Stone halted the slaughter at 3 minutes 41 seconds of the eighth round and spared the 31-year-old Californian from further punishment.

Bucceroni, 26, had almost removed Freddie's head from his sturdy shoulders with a relentless, two-fisted attack. Beshore was bleeding from the nose and the left eye, and his left side was a ripe red from glove burns.

New Type Of Birdies

Three of the nation's top pro golfers bagged birdies of a different sort near Jonesboro, Ark., Wednesday. Lew Worsham (left) and Byron Nelson (right) were guests of Dr. Cary Middlecoff (center) at the Greasy Slough Hunting Club for the opening day of the duck season. All got the limit. (AP Wirephoto)

TV Cited As Villain In Senator Farm Shake-Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators, severely shaken financially by farm club losses, pushed ahead Wednesday with an extensive overhaul of their minor league affiliations.

Ossie Bluege, director of the club's farm system, said "This is by no means a Washington problem alone. It's of national scope. All baseball is suffering because of attendance problems in the minors."

Like others, Bluege viewed the attendance losses as resulting from the impact of television. People, it seems, would rather watch big league ball on their TV sets than go out to minor league parks.

Bluege said the Senators have not yet determined just how much money they lost in their farm operations last year. But he said "It'll be several hundred thousand dollars. You can be sure of that."

As a starter, the Senators are seeking ways to dispose of their Orlando club in the Class D Florida League. Working agreements with Scranton, Pa., of the Class A Eastern League, and Bluefield, W. Va., of the Class D Appalachian League, are being ended.

There also is a move afoot to switch Charlotte, N. C., from the Class B Tri-State League to the Class A Sally League.

"The fact of the matter is," Bluege said, "that there just aren't enough players to go around to satisfy the demand. We all know about it and we've got to do something about it soon."

Bluege said the National Association of Minor League Clubs, headed by George Trautman, plans to make a recommendation on what to do about the minors, how to realign the setup and in general tighten up the minor league system.

Just when the recommendation is to be made is unknown, Bluege said, adding "As far as I know, nothing has been done as yet."

The impact of television and the folding of minor leagues, Bluege said, are "bound to hinder the development of good baseball players."

Stating that the Senators are as eager as any club to bolster the roster with well-trained youngsters, Bluege said the present climate is not conducive to training them properly.

No Decision Sighted In Brooklyn Guessing Game

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Who is going to manage Brooklyn? The Dodger guessing game is sweeping the town. Lucky Buck, scrabble and office polls are old hat. Even Chuck Dressen, the ex-manager got in on the act.

Almost everybody out of a job, except Harry Truman, has been mentioned as "the leading candidate" by some shadowy source. Everybody, that is, except Rogers Hornsby. Nobody came up with that one—yet.

Three New York Morning papers Wednesday came up with three different names. An afternoon paper featured byline writers on "I'd like to see—manage the Dodgers."

If Walter O'Malley, the club president, and his two vice-presidents, Buzzy Bavasi and Fresno Thompson, want publicity, they're getting it. Now that the local football season is about finished, they can have the run of the sheet.

In the face of the recurrent rumors, O'Malley stands firm. "No manager has been named," he said. "I don't know when we will decide. I can't tell you how many are under consideration. When we make our choice, we'll call a press conference and let (not leave) you know."

This has been the Dodger stand all the way. The story that Pee Wee Reese declined a player-manager job leaked out. No other names have been mentioned officially. Dressen was on the Reese bandwagon until the ride ended.

Ken Smith, in the New York Daily Mirror, Wednesday reported Walter Alston, Montreal manager, would get the job according to "a source close to the Ebbets Field inner headquarters."

The New York Daily News' Dick Young got on the phone to call Bill Terry at his auto agency in Jacksonville, Fla., to learn Terry might be interested in a two-year (but no one-year) contract.

Young quoted Terry as saying, "I have not been approached but even if he (O'Malley) was interested in me, I wouldn't be interested in a deal like a one-year contract."

Roscoe McGowen, for many years the New York Times' man on the Dodger beat, wrote that Fresco Thompson, the veepee in charge of farm clubs, had become the leading, but reluctant, candidate.

In the afternoon paper field, Jerry Mitchell of the New York Post reported Cookie Lavagetto, former coach and player, held the greatest fan appeal in terms of letters received at the Brooklyn office.

The World Telegram and Sun polled its own baseball writers and came up with three different choices.

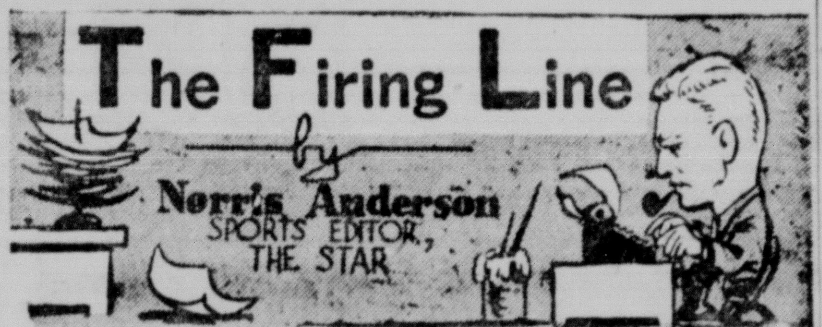
Dan Daniel chose Eddie Sawyer "because he is familiar with the National League, is a good disciplinarian, knows how to handle men and has a pennant background."

Joe King picked Lefty O'Doul for his World Series potential on the basis of "magnetic leadership" and a fine job in past Pacific Coast League playoffs.

Bill Roedder selected Jackie Robinson because of baseball sense, leadership, familiarity with team, "winningness" and ability to provide good copy for the writers.

And that's not all. Frankie Frisch, Billy Herman, Luke Sewell, Marty Marion. In fact, pick a name.

Our candidate? That's easy. Jake Pitler (ex-coach).



(Albert J. Anonymous contributes two poems which carry a high message, both to aspiring preppers and to mature collegians. We dedicated Mr. A. J. A.'s words to the Huskers on the eve of their seasonal windup meeting with mighty Oklahoma.)

Hard Knocks

I'm not the man to say that failure's sweet,
Nor tell a chap to laugh when things go wrong;
I know it hurts to have to take defeat
An' no one likes to lose before a throng;
It isn't very pleasant not to win
When you have done the very best you could;
But if you're down, get up an' buckle in—
A lickin' often does a fellow good.

I've seen some chaps who never knew their power
Until somebody knocked 'em to the floor;
I've known men who discovered in an hour
A courage they had never shown before.
I've seen 'em rise from failure to the top
By doin' things they hadn't understood.
Hard knocks are painful things,
But stop—
A lickin' often does a fellow good.

Success is not the teacher, wise an' true,
That gruff old failure is, remember that;
She's much too apt to make a fool of you,
Which isn't true of blows that knock you flat.
Hard knocks are painful things an' hard to bear,
An' most of us would dodge 'em if we could;
There's something mighty broadening in care—
A lickin' often does a fellow good.

Teamwork

If you're center on a football team
And the halfbacks can't call signals,
But a lot on him depends;
And the tackle doesn't take the ball,
And the ends don't hit the line,
But they all are important, and
Their duties intertwine;
For what good is a halfback
If the tackles do not hold?
And the end will be a detriment
Unless he does as told;
And unless the center snaps the ball
At just the time and place,
The teamwork of the whole is gone,
A sure sign of disgrace.
And so it is in other things,
Whate'er our job may be,
If major one, or minor one,
Where results we cannot see,
We do our part and don't complain,
Because our praise is less,
We bring on teamwork of the whole,
A sure sign of success.

Charles Caldwell, Princeton coach, recently named the most outstanding football player he had ever coached. He was an Omaha Benson boy, name of Homer Smith.

"Homer is an unusual fullback in that he has all of the breakaway qualities looked for in a fullback," says Caldwell. "He is an excellent ball-carrier in every respect and is a great linebacker."

Smith's furious running has directly accounted for Princeton's last four wins. He is rated the outstanding fullback in the East and will be making a few of the All-America teams.

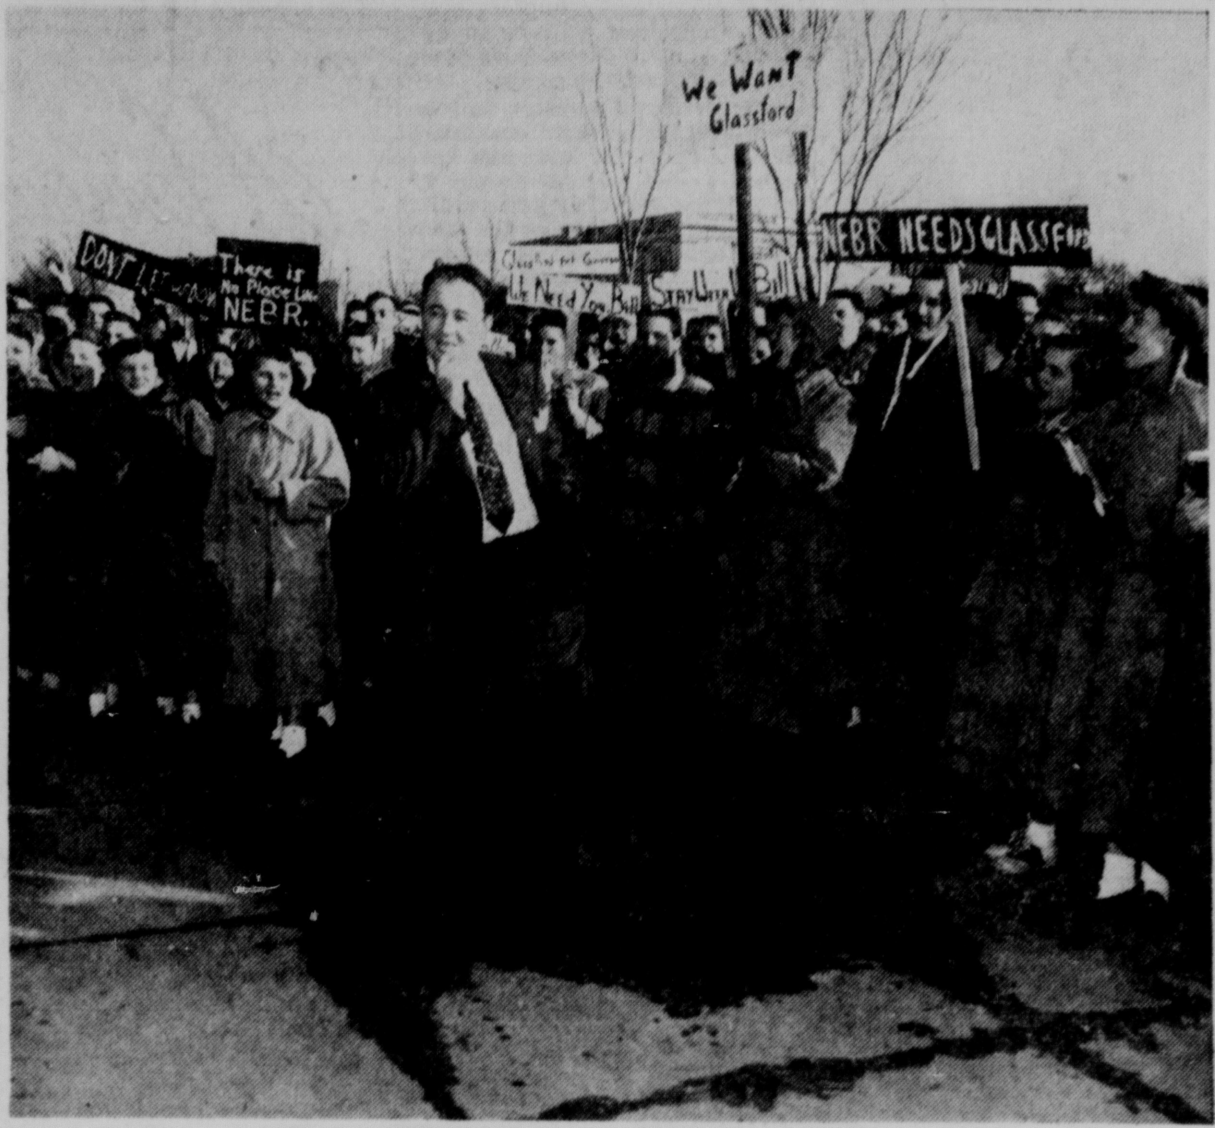
The 187-pounder, whose wife, Kathryn Haskell, is a former Nebraska co-ed, nearly matriculated at the Husker institution.

"I wanted to attend Nebraska, but my mother wanted me to come back east where I had attended prep school," Homer said recently.

Hearing of Smith's feats and watching the quick, incisive bursts of Lincoln's Joe Arenas in the televised 49ers-Browns game Sunday, brought out this thought:

What if those two chaps, along with two more who were once on the Huskers campus for a look-see (Carrol Hardy of Colorado and Buddy Leake of Oklahoma) had all ended up wearing the raiment of the Scarlet?

We can dream, can't we?



Remember This Scene Of Four Years Ago?

It was after Coach Bill Glassford's 1949 season at Nebraska in 1950 that Pittsburgh University attempted to hire away the Husker coach. Cornhusker students, brandishing various signs of "We Want Bill," swarmed the Coliseum and stayed outside until the coach himself (as shown above) made an appearance. Glassford promised them that he would stay. The scene is interesting these days, as the howl of wolves is heard outside the Husker plant. (Star Photo.)

A Handy Guy Is Gene Calame, Bootin' Those Sooners Home

Lincoln Star Special

NORMAN, Okla.—Like a good jockey up on a big, hot-blooded bangtail, Gene Calame has booted Oklahoma's new team home a winner in all six games he has been Bud Wilkinson's quarterback.

The test of good quarterbacking is ability to move the offense all the way, especially the last 20 yards of a drive, where the ganged-up defense is toughest of all. Statistics show that the Crimson and Cream's new reinsman has just about swept the card in this department.

Twenty-five times this year Calame has moved the galloping Sooner attack inside the opponents' 20. On 21 of those 25 occasions, the Sooners scored although two of the touchdowns were recalled by penalty.

Of the four failures, one was caused by a holding penalty and another because time ran out with Oklahoma on Kansas State's one-yard line after Larry Grigg clipped off 41 yards on a roll-out just before the first half ended.

Only twice in 21 times this season has the opposition team held Oklahoma for downs inside the 20 when Calame was wearing the Sooner quarterbacking silks.

Texas checked him once after he'd driven the Sooners 77 yards to the Steer three. Kansas bogged down another of his drives on their seven. But that's all.

Moreover, the Sooners 165-pound junior jock from Sulphur has done it under handicaps that none of the other four brilliant Sooner signal callers before him—Jack Mitchell, Darrell Royal, Claude Arnold and Eddie Crowder had to contend with.

Because of the new rules that killed platooning, Calame can't trot to the bench for a nap and a coke and a cold towel on his neck when the Sooners go on defense. He can't sit down by himself and think over his problems. He can't talk to the coaches.

Instead, he must further run the risk of getting his brains scrambled by playing defense. Moreover, the Sooners' new Eddie Arcaro plays the toughest spot in the secondary, the left half position towards which most right-handed offenses run.

Red Grange Is 'Proud' Of J. C. Caroline

CHICAGO (UP)—Red Grange said Wednesday he is "proud" of J. C. Caroline who this season smashed the old Galloping Ghost's 30-year-old Illinois yardage record for one season.

The question, "Is Caroline better than you were?" was tossed at Grange as chairman of the Chicago Bear luncheon and the all-time great halfback modestly parried it.

"Every ball carrier has a different style. Some have power, some twist their hips, some change their pace," said Grange. "It's impossible to draw comparisons.

"I'll say I'm proud of Caroline and the job Ray Eliot has done at Illinois this season.

LINCOLN CAR OWNERS TELL ME:

"It really does cure stalling!"*

(remarkable DE-ICER additive prevents stalling!)

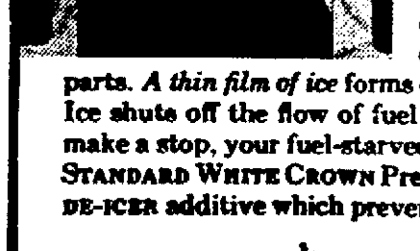
Believe it or not, when your engine dies in traffic at this time of year, chances are that ice does it. Yes, ice! Carburetor ice! But carburetor ice can't form when you use New STANDARD WHITE CROWN Premium Gasoline.

No mechanical carburetor adjustment can cure this cold-motor stalling. But this is how Standard scientists have solved the problem. They have added to New Standard Premium a costly DE-ICER additive, a built-in anti-freeze. This additive prevents the formation of the thin ice film that can cripple the action of your carburetor, stall you dead in traffic.

Here is added proof that you can expect more from Standard—and get it. Millions of midwest motorists expect to get the best things in gasoline first from the leader in the field. Your neighborly Standard Oil dealer—a member of one of the finest service teams in the country—invites you to stop in today to get your car ready for Winter and to fill up with New STANDARD PREMIUM, the anti-stalling gasoline.

YOU CAN'T BUY A MORE POWERFUL GASOLINE.
TRY A TANKFUL TODAY!

*A THIN FILM OF ICE
a major cause of engine stalling from 58° to 28°



When you press the starter, the gasoline needed for starting and warm-up is vaporized. These vapors are drawn rapidly through the carburetor. This evaporation chills the carburetor below freezing. Chilled metal causes moisture in air to condense and freeze on carburetor parts. A thin film of ice forms on the carburetor throttle plate. Ice shuts off the flow of fuel during idling. Then, when you make a stop, your fuel-starved engine sputters and dies. New STANDARD WHITE CROWN Premium Gasoline contains a costly DE-ICER additive which prevents carburetor ice from forming.

You expect more from STANDARD and get it!

Lincoln Star Special

NORMAN, Okla.—Like a good jockey up on a big, hot-blooded bangtail, Gene Calame has booted Oklahoma's new team home a winner in all six games he has been Bud Wilkinson's quarterback.

The test of good quarterbacking is ability to move the offense all the way, especially the last 20 yards of a drive, where the ganged-up defense is toughest of all. Statistics show that the Crimson and Cream's new reinsman has just about swept the card in this department.

Twenty-five times this year Calame has moved the galloping Sooner attack inside the opponents' 20. On 21 of those 25 occasions, the Sooners scored although two of the touchdowns were recalled by penalty.

Of the four failures, one was caused by a holding penalty and another because time ran out with Oklahoma on Kansas State's one-yard line after Larry Grigg clipped off 41 yards on a roll-out just before the first half ended.

Only twice in 21 times this season has the opposition team held Oklahoma for downs inside the 20 when Calame was wearing the Sooner quarterbacking silks.

Texas checked him once after he'd driven the Sooners 77 yards to the Steer three. Kansas bogged down another of his drives on their seven. But that's all.

Moreover, the Sooners 165-pound junior jock from Sulphur has done it under handicaps that none of the other four brilliant Sooner signal callers before him—Jack Mitchell, Darrell Royal, Claude Arnold and Eddie Crowder had to contend with.

Because of the new rules that killed platooning, Calame can't trot to the bench for a nap and a coke and a cold towel on his neck when the Sooners go on defense. He can't sit down by himself and think over his problems. He can't talk to the coaches.

Instead, he must further run the risk of getting his brains scrambled by playing defense. Moreover, the Sooners' new Eddie Arcaro plays the toughest spot in the secondary, the left half position towards which most right-handed offenses run.

Budget Gets Break—Turkey Price Same As In 1952

Nebraska families can enjoy better turkeys than ever before this Thanksgiving without paying any more this year than last year.

Frank E. Mussehl, chairman of the poultry husbandry department of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, says that prices will not vary more than a "cent or two either way" this year.

As this was an unusually good year for raising turkeys, the quality is expected to be higher than in previous years.

Prices in the Lincoln area, Mussehl says, should average from 60 to 69 cents per pound. Hens will be about six cents more expensive than the heavier, young toms.

Chief Cook

Since this is the time of the year when the chief cook in the family is subjecting the food budget to some searching mental arithmetic, following are a few things the housewife can expect when selecting and buying that lordly bird.

1. If your family is small (two to three persons) and you are not having guests to dinner, your best buy is a Beltsville White turkey which will weigh from six to eight pounds.

2. For larger families the housewife will have a choice of birds ranging in weight [illegible] to 35 pounds.

3. Figure about serving approximately one-half pound of turkey to each person around the Thanksgiving dinner table.

According to Mussehl, most of the turkeys sold in Nebraska this year will be ready to cook. "Very few turkeys will be sold here just dressed (only the feathers removed)," Mussehl stated, "as housewives now don't want to spend so much time preparing the bird for the oven."

The Department of Agriculture says you may pay a few cents per pound more for ready to cook fowl than you would pay for dressed birds. However, you don't pay for as many pounds when you buy ready to cook turkeys as the head, feet, and internal organs have been removed before the bird is weighed.

Mussehl reported a sideline concerning the turkey buying process: the larger turkey (30 to 35 pounds) is a favorite with hotel and restaurants as the yield ratio per pound is greater from a larger bird than from smaller birds.

The housewife who finds that she has turkey left for two or three additional meals after Thanksgiving is over can avoid serving turkey at each meal for three days, Mussehl says. The meat should be removed from the bones and the meat placed in a storage bag and frozen in a home freezer. Leftover dressing can also be frozen and served with the meat two or three weeks after Thanksgiving.

Duck or Goose

If the family's taste runs more to duck or goose rather than turkey, the housewife will find that these birds will be considerably lower priced per pound than turkey.

"Geese will sell from 10 to 15 cents less per pound than turkey," Mussehl said. "And chickens are the best bargain among all fowl."

Beef prices are low with the great numbers of grass cattle coming to market in November and, according to the Department of Agriculture, pork prices will remain about the same.

Those side dishes that flank the Tranksgiving turkey or goose or beef roast will make less of a dent in the budget if the cook buys those foods listed as plentiful by the Agriculture Department. These include such traditional items as sweet potatoes, potatoes, onions, carrots, cabbage, cranberries and pumpkin for the pie.

Greenlease Kidnapers Will Learn Fate Today

Judge Reeves' Instructions Will Be Brief; Verdict By Noon Possible

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (INS)—The "life or death" murder trial of Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Heady was recessed Wednesday night after the government demanded death in the gas chamber and the defense pleaded for mercy for the Bobby Greenlease kidnapers.

Judge Albert L. Reeves, 79-year-old federal jurist decided at 5:08 p.m. CST at the conclusion of opposing counsel's summations, not to charge the jury until 10 a.m. Thursday. He said his instructions would be short—"10 or 15 minutes."

The weight of courthouse opinion was that the jury, composed of farmers and small businessmen from small Missouri towns, will come in with a verdict "before noon."

"Get a good night's rest," he told the jury in his courtly voice. "It is too late to instruct you tonight."

The judge must be specifically instructed to hand down the death penalty in this case. If the jury does not instruct him, Judge Reeves can give only prison sentences, ranging up to life terms.

U. S. Attorney Edward L. Schuefler, a burly man of the Wendell Willkie type, called for death for the confessed slayers in a fiery summation during which he once cried:

"This was a cold-blooded, planned, premeditated murder. It was a full partnership, and what this 34-year-old man and 41-year-old woman did was one of the most heinous, brutal, dastardly crimes ever committed in the annals of crime . . ."

Plainly concentrating on dispelling within the jury any possible sympathy for Mrs. Heady, the goverment prosecutor repeatedly linked her with a crime "so low it shrieks to high heaven."

Defense Lawyers Roy K. Dietrich and Harold Hull urged mercy in behalf of whisky-puffed Mrs. Heady and the morose-looking Hall, who spent most of the day slumped in his chair, gnawing on his fist.

For the third straight day the man did not so much as glance at Bonnie Heady, though frequently her eyes darted in his direction, sometimes pleadingly.

Scheufler in his rebuttal, cried:

"What you sow you shall reap."

Referring to the defense's summations, he asserted that the fact that both defendants came from homes of more than average opportunity made the crime "all the more damning."

He bitterly accused Mrs. Heady of being "more interested in her dog than in Bobby Greenlease."

"She had five, 10, 50, 200 opportunities to say: 'No, Carl, let us not do this.' She could have said it when they took that little boy out of their car and walked him toward the hedgerows on Sept. 28 (the day of the murder.)

"But she always said 'yes,'" the prosecutor boomed.

Judge Reeves' decision to adjourn ended a day during which the defense came forth with a last-minute effort to blame the U.S. Marines and Hall's allegedly aloof parents for turning him into a killer.

Bonnie's lone witness, her aunt, attested to her fondness for dolls as a child.

In behalf of Hall, Dietrich brought to the stand three men and two women who testified that Hall's eight-year tour of duty with the Marines "hardened" him, and that his childhood was an unhappy one.

The final witness for Hall, Mrs. Pansy McDowell, who kept Hall on her farm one summer when he was 12 years old, called Hall's mother (who died in 1944):

". . . the coldest-blooded, hardest-hearted mother I've ever dealt with."

Mrs. Heady's lone witness was her aunt, a quiet, grievously saddened woman—Nellie Baker, wife of a Chicago physician.

Mrs. Baker raised Bonnie, after the death of Bonnie's mother, when the girl was 2. She said Bonnie was "just a normal, pretty little girl, who loved dolls and pets."

Bonnie wept quietly during parts of the defense testimony, but grinned broadly at other parts, especially a reference to Hall's laziness as a growing boy.

Plane Travels 1,272 MPH; New Record

MUROC, Calif. (INS) — The speed of future aerial warfare climbed another notch Wednesday with the announcement that Douglas Aircraft's needle-nosed Skyrocket has hit a record 1,272 miles per hour high in the stratosphere over Muroc Dry Lake.

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics reported that the swept-wing rocket-powered plane reached the record-breaking speed, nearly twice that of sound, last Oct. 14 with the committee's 32-year-old test pilot Scott (Scotty) Crossfield at the controls.

Crossfield bettered the mark of 1,238 miles set by Bill Bridgeman in the same plane on Aug. 15, 1951, but did not set an official world speed record because official marks must be set by planes that take off from the ground and fly over a specified course.

62,000 Feet

The Skyrocket was dropped from the belly of an Air Force bomber at an altitude of 33,000 feet and made its run at about 62,000 feet. The Skyrocket holds the all-time world altitude record of 83,235 feet, set by Marine Lt. Col. Marion E. Carl last Aug. 21.

The NACA at Edwards Air Force Base near Muroc said Crossfield was not free to discuss the flight without clearance from NACA headquarters in Washington D.C.

Crossfield, who made the flight on the sixth anniversary of the first penetration of the sound barrier by a Bell X-1 rocket ship, nearly reached Mach 2, or double the speed of sound. His top speed was Mach 1.96.

Authorities predicted that the plane would have reached Mach 2, but an unusual temperature, reported at minus 82 degrees Fahrenheit, in the stratosphere cut down the Skyrocket's mark.

The plane was under power for about three minutes and then glided in for a landing.

Mrs. Heady's lone witness was her aunt, a quiet, grievously saddened woman—Nellie Baker, wife of a Chicago physician.

Mrs. Baker raised Bonnie, after the death of Bonnie's mother, when the girl was 2. She said Bonnie was "just a normal, pretty little girl, who loved dolls and pets."

Bonnie wept quietly during parts of the defense testimony, but grinned broadly at other parts, especially a reference to Hall's laziness as a growing boy.

Plane Travels 1,272 MPH; New Record

MUROC, Calif. (INS) — The speed of future aerial warfare climbed another notch Wednesday with the announcement that Douglas Aircraft's needle-nosed Skyrocket has hit a record 1,272 miles per hour high in the stratosphere over Muroc Dry Lake.

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics reported that the swept-wing rocket-powered plane reached the record-breaking speed, nearly twice that of sound, last Oct. 14 with the committee's 32-year-old test pilot Scott (Scotty) Crossfield at the controls.

Crossfield bettered the mark of 1,238 miles set by Bill Bridgeman in the same plane on Aug. 15, 1951, but did not set an official world speed record because official marks must be set by planes that take off from the ground and fly over a specified course.

62,000 Feet

The Skyrocket was dropped from the belly of an Air Force bomber at an altitude of 33,000 feet and made its run at about 62,000 feet. The Skyrocket holds the all-time world altitude record of 83,235 feet, set by Marine Lt. Col. Marion E. Carl last Aug. 21.

The NACA at Edwards Air Force Base near Muroc said Crossfield was not free to discuss the flight without clearance from NACA headquarters in Washington D.C.

Crossfield, who made the flight on the sixth anniversary of the first penetration of the sound barrier by a Bell X-1 rocket ship, nearly reached Mach 2, or double the speed of sound. His top speed was Mach 1.96.

Authorities predicted that the plane would have reached Mach 2, but an unusual temperature, reported at minus 82 degrees Fahrenheit, in the stratosphere cut down the Skyrocket's mark.

The plane was under power for about three minutes and then glided in for a landing.

'McCarthyism' Query Brings Hard Look, Biting Reply From Ike

WASHINGTON, (AP) — In the fading splendor of a conference chamber overlooking the White House the President of the United States stood Wednesday, answering reporters' questions.

"Ex-President Truman has charged," a newsman said, "that your administration has now embraced McCarthyism. Do you have any comment on that?"

Dwight D. Eisenhower took a full step back from the mahogany desk with its pair of bowling-pin-shaped microphones. Face reddening, he looked—hard—for a long moment at his questioner. Then, biting off each word, he gave his answer to the 179 newsmen and women seated before him:

He was ready, he said, to take the verdict of this body—these correspondents—on that.

Question Rephrased

There was a crackling silence, a nervous clearing of throats. Then, from the corners of the big ornate room: "What was that? What'd he say? Didn't hear the question!"

Unsmiling, Eisenhower rephrased it for them.

The question, he said, was whether this administration had embraced something called McCarthyism. To start with, he went on, that is a term that he doesn't particularly understand.

But, he repeated crisply, he is ready to take the judgment of the assembled correspondents whether there is any truth in such a statement.

And that was the last word President Eisenhower said Wednesday on the Harry Dexter White case and the tidal wave of controversy it has aroused.

Budget Balance Out

He had some things to say on other subjects:

1. He does not think the federal budget can be balanced in the fiscal year starting next July 1. Tax adjustments and the high cost of farm relief, the President said, are two of the things which make this unlikely.

2. He's stretching the funds available for drought relief by having the Commodity Credit Corporation make feed supplies available on the cuff. So to speak—that is, without being paid for them until Congress comes back and has a chance to vote more money.

3. He will work hard for domestic co-operation in all bi-partisan matters, especially foreign affairs. And talks with key Democrats, he indicated, may come soon after he holds full dress conferences with Republican leaders Dec. 17-19 to chart the program he expects to lay before the next Congress.

4. The federal government will act swiftly and with its full power to halt any business recession or major unemployment. Eisenhower indicated he saw no signs of a major recession in the recent fall-off in steel output and the decline in employment.

More Care

5. This country will be careful in its relations with Pakistan not to do anything which would stir up that country's neighbor, India. This was his reply when asked about reports the United States might furnish military aid to Pakistan in return for bases there.

6. His talks early next month with the British and French prime ministers at Bermuda will cover, among other topics, European defense and the situation in Korea and Indo-China. These talks will be informal, he said, and he hopes they'll be useful in smoothing out any frictions.

On a more personal note, Eisenhower said he hopes to spend a Thanksgiving holiday in Augusta, Ga. His son, Maj. John Eisenhower, and John's wife and children are awaiting him there. So is the Augusta National Golf Club.

Wearing a brown suit and matching tie with a blue-painted figure, the President appeared mostly genial, but wary, Wednesday—in the wake of last week's hurly-burly over the White case.

He didn't volunteer any comments on that subject.

As soon as reporters brought it up—which they did as soon as the President stopped talking about drought relief and plans for the next session of Congress—he made it plain he'd much prefer to talk about something else.

Ryan Quits ILA Post; Bradley Successor

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Joseph P. Ryan resigned Wednesday as president of the independent International Longshoremen's Association and was replaced by William V. Bradley, head of the union's New York tugboat local.

Bradley, 47-year-old captain who started on the waterfront as a deckhand at the age of 14, was elected by acclamation at the union's special convention in Philadelphia, shortly after the ailing Ryan bowed out in a brief but dramatic speech.

The longshoremen gave Ryan a resounding vote of confidence although he is under inndictment in New York on charges of stealing $45,000 in union funds, and they voted to retire him on a $10,000-a-year "irrevocable" pension for life.

Donovan Declines

Bradley's unanimous election came after Daniel J. Donovan, of Boston, a member of the ILA executive council and international vice president, declined the nomination.

Donovan said he thought it "highly important that the president at this time should be a man from New York."

Bradley has been in the ILA for more than 20 years. He is a native of Kingston, N. Y., and was elected an international vice president last year. He is credited with negotiating the eight-hour day for New York tugboat men.

Ryan, who surrendered the lifetime job at $20,000 a year, said no pressure had been placed on him to retire, and that his health was the deciding factor.

ILA 'Whipping Boy'

In his retirement speech, Ryan charged the ILA "has been the scapegoat and whipping boy of politicians."

In an obvious reference to the American Federation of Labor, which ousted the ILA in September on charges of failing to cleanse itself of corruption, Ryan said "our former friends have bowed to whipped-up public hysteria and taken the easy way out."

Following Bradley's election, the 450 delegates took up the issue of possible affiliation with an international parent organization, and the executive council was empowered to make overtures to the AFL, the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the United Mine Workers.

Any final action on affiliation, it was explained, would be determined by the ILA membership.

Seal Sale Drive Total Is $6,435

A total of $6,435 has been contributed to the 1953 Christmas Seal Sale in Lancaster County, Richard Jay, vice president of the Lancaster County Tuberculosis Association, reported Wednesday. This amount is only 10 per cent less than receipts for the same period last year, he said.

The drive, which opened Nov. 9, showed a 25 per cent decrease at the end of the first week.

Tuberculosis Association board members are confident that the gap will be closed by the end of the second week and that the goal of $19,500 will be reached, Jay said. Funds raised from Christmas Seals are needed to continue the association's chest X-ray survey, school and health education programs, he said.

Leukemia Blamed For Child's Death

LEXINGTON, Neb.—Funeral services were held here for Donald Haugh, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Haugh. Death was attributed to leukemia.

The child's ailment was diagnosed definitely as leukemia only about two weeks ago.

Wrapping Demonstrated

Unique types of gift wrapping was the subject of a talk and demonstration by Mrs. Harriet Bickford at a meeting of the Christian Business and Professional Women.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

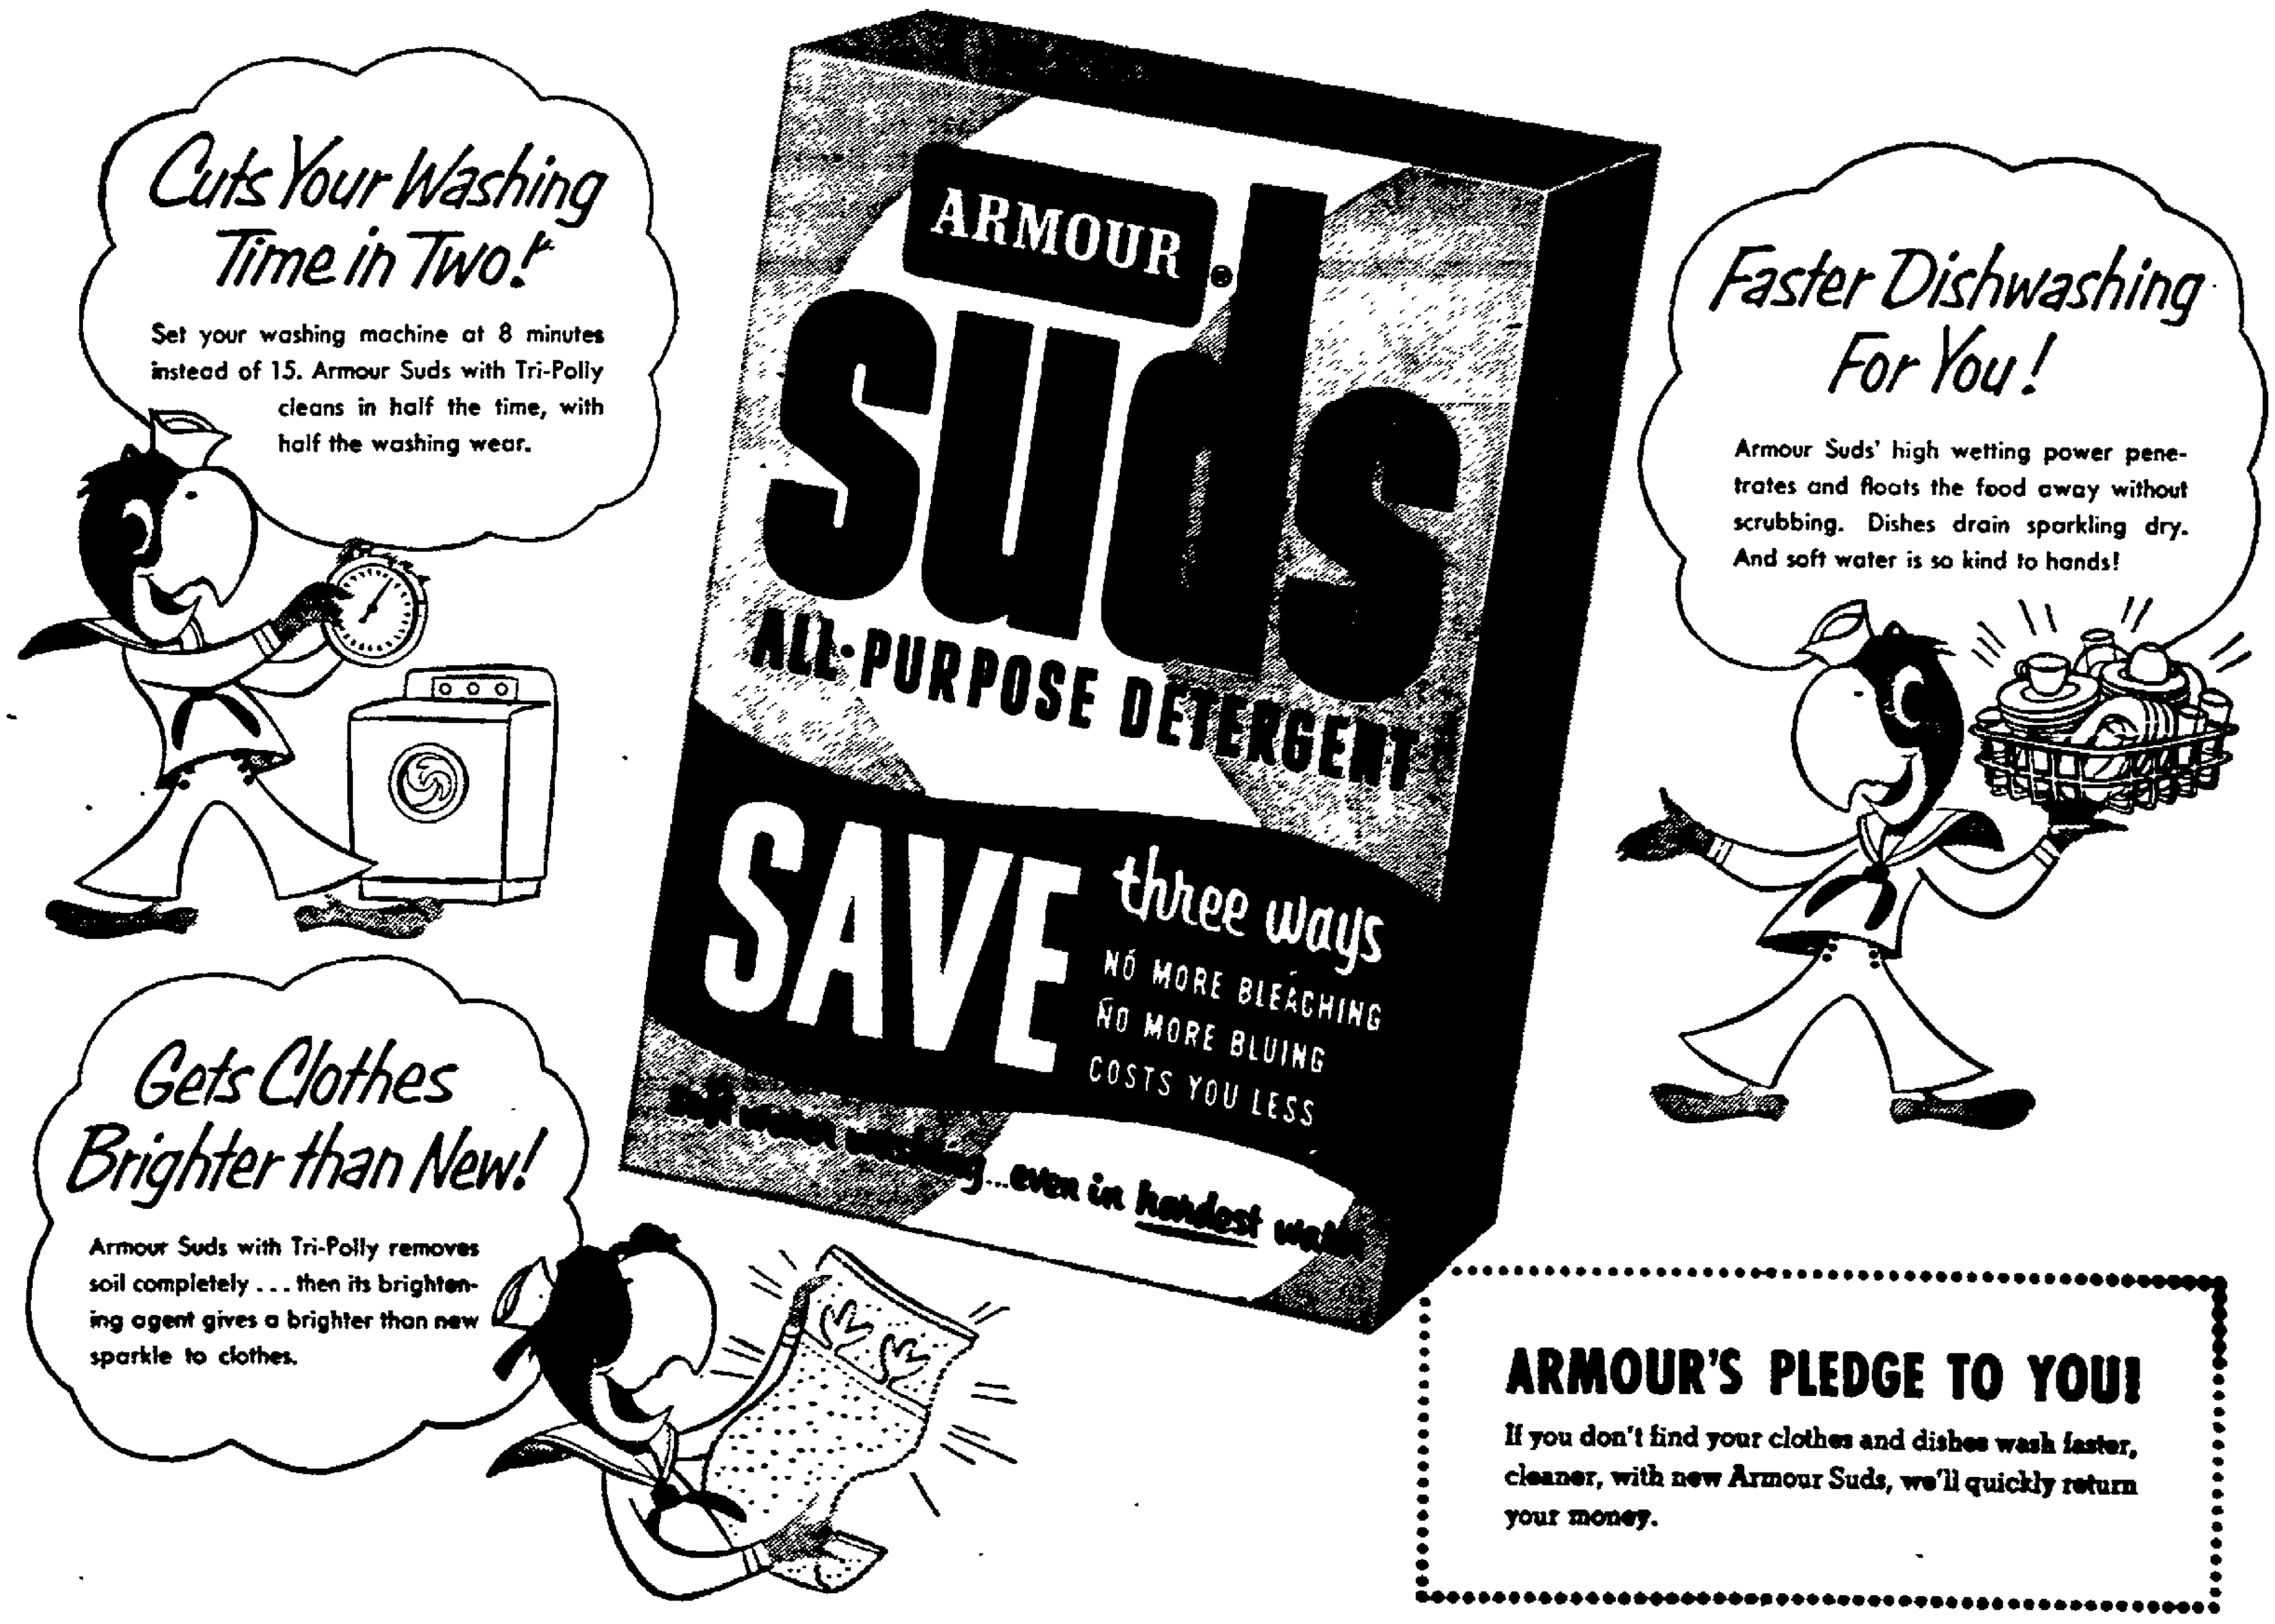
NEW ARMOUR suds WITH TRI-POLLY ...THE BUILT-IN WATER SOFTENER!

You need it... You'll love it... here's WHY!

Most of the water in this area is hard water, containing minerals such as calcium and magnesium. When ordinary washday soaps are used in it they combine with the hard water minerals to form a "soap scum." This scum gets trapped in the fibers of your clothes and makes them look dull and gray.

New Armour Suds with Tri-Polly leaves your water soft as mineral-free rain-water, because it neutralizes the minerals, locks them up so they can't form clothes-graying soap scum. This, plus Armour Suds' brightening agent, is the reason your clothes wash brighter than new, and in half the usual time.



Cuts Your Washing Time in Two!
Set your washing machine at 8 minutes instead of 15. Armour Suds with Tri-Polly cleans in half the time, with half the washing wear.

Faster Dishwashing For You!
Armour Suds' high wetting power penetrates and floats the food away without scrubbing. Dishes drain sparkling dry. And soft water is so kind to hands!

Gets Clothes Brighter than New!
Armour Suds with Tri-Polly removes soil completely... then its brightening agent gives a brighter than new sparkle to clothes.

ARMOUR'S PLEDGE TO YOU!
If you don't find your clothes and dishes wash faster, cleaner, with new Armour Suds, we'll quickly return your money.

Ryan Quits ILA Post; Bradley Successor

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Joseph P. Ryan resigned Wednesday as president of the independent International Longshoremen's Association and was replaced by William V. Bradley, head of the union's New York tugboat local.

Bradley, 47-year-old captain who started on the waterfront as a deckhand at the age of 14, was elected by acclamation at the union's special convention in Philadelphia, shortly after the ailing Ryan bowed out in a brief but dramatic speech.

The longshoremen gave Ryan a resounding vote of confidence although he is under inndictment in New York on charges of stealing $45,000 in union funds, and they voted to retire him on a $10,000-a-year "irrevocable" pension for life.

Donovan Declines

Bradley's unanimous election came after Daniel J. Donovan, of Boston, a member of the ILA executive council and internatioinal vice president, declined the nomination.

Donovan said he thought it "highly important that the president at this time should be a man from New York."

Bradley has been in the ILA for more than 20 years. He is a native of Kingston, N. Y., and was elected an international vice president last year. He is credited with negotiating the eight-hour day for New York tugboat men.

Ryan, who surrendered the lifetime job at $20,000 a year, said no pressure had been placed on him to retire, and that his health was the deciding factor.

ILA 'Whipping Boy'

In his retirement speech, Ryan charged the ILA "has been the scapegoat and whipping boy of politicians."

In an obvious reference to the American Federation of Labor, which ousted the ILA in September on charges of failing to cleanse itself of corruption, Ryan said "our former friends have bowed to whipped-up public hysteria and taken the easy way out."

Following Bradley's election, the 450 delegates took up the issue of possible affiliation with an international parent organization, and the executive council was empowered to make overtures to the AFL, the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the United Mine Workers.

Any final action on affiliation, it was explained, would be determined by the ILA membership.

LEXINGTON, Neb.—Funeral services were held here for Donald Haugh, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Haugh. Death was attributed to leukemia.

Seal Sale Drive Total Is $6,435

A total of $6,435 has been contributed to the 1953 Christmas Seal Sale in Lancaster County, Richard Jay, vice president of the Lancaster County Tuberculosis Association, reported Wednesday. This amount is only 10 per cent less than receipts for the same period last year, he said.

The drive, which opened Nov. 9, showed a 25 per cent decrease at the end of the first week.

Tuberculosis Association board members are confident that the gap will be closed by the end of the second week and that the goal of $19,500 will be reached, Jay said. Funds raised from Christmas Seals are needed to continue the association's chest X-ray survey, school and health education programs, he said.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

☆ ☆ ☆

The story said "he only had four wives at a time". . . but this doesn't detract any from his courage.

☆ ☆ ☆

They arrested a fellow in New York the other day who tried to have two wives at a time and he only had 8 cents in his pocket . . . this shows what it takes to be ambitious.

☆ ☆ ☆

Saud had somewhere around 100 wives, in shifts, and they're still inventorying his children and if Saudi Arabia pays social security my advice to you is sell your stock now.

☆ ☆ ☆

Although if it works as our system, not many will live long enough to collect it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Our system is pretty good . . . the government encourages you to live to age 65 and then dares you to live on what you'll get after that.

Here's how to Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at are upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

It may have escaped attention that King Ibn Saud was the only man in modern times to die leaving a column of wives and a half page of children.

☆ ☆ ☆

The story said "he only had four wives at a time"... but this doesn't detract any from his courage.

☆ ☆ ☆

They arrested a fellow in New York the other day who tried to have two wives at a time and he only had 8 cents in his pocket . . . this shows what it takes to be ambitious.

☆ ☆ ☆

Saud had somewhere around 100 wives, in shifts, and they're still inventorying his children and if Saudi Arabia pays social security my advice to you is sell your stock now.

☆ ☆ ☆

Although if it works as our system, not many will live long enough to collect it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Our system is pretty good . . . the government encourages you to live to age 65 and then dares you to live on what you'll get after that.

Here's how to Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

Ammo Truck Driver Fails To Stop, Fined

A Joplin, Mo., truck driver was fined $30 in Municipal Court in Lincoln Wednesday after he failed to stop at a local port of entry and request escort for his explosives truck.

The driver was N. L. Smith, himself of Joplin, who had entered the city from Highway 77 south enroute from Kansas to the Mead Ordinance Plant.

Smith was stopped as he drove past the police station on No. 10th St., and immediately hauled into court where he pled guilty before Judge John Jacobson, explaining he "didn't see the signs." The port of entry signs on the south are located at 14th and Pioneers.

The arrest and fine were the first given under the new city ordinance governing the transportation of explosives through the city. The law was enacted after the explosion of an explosives truck near Omaha and one near Axtell, Neb.

The specific charges against Smith were that of unlawfully driving explosive material through the street, failure to stop at the port of entry, and failure to request a police escort. Smith is a driver for the Tri-State Distributing Company of Joplin.

City Welfare and Safety Director Ray Osborn said Wednesday officials of the Tri-State Company were present at a meeting in his office in which the new regulations were explained to truckers.

Tools Are Stolen

Theft of $40 worth of tools from a road patrol grader of the Abel Construction Company has been reported to the sheriff's office. The grader was parked in the vicinity of Capitol Beach, where it has been used in road construction.

Railroads, Steels Boost Up Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—A late nudge ahead from the railroads coupled with higher prices for steels Wednesday put the stock market ahead moderately.

Most of the day the market was narrowly mixed, and at the close the changes either way could be covered by a point in key areas.

A certain amount of irregularity was caused by dividend declarations and earnings statements in their impact on individual issues.

Moving higher with the railroads and steels were aircrafts, coppers, merchandising issues, and a long list of individual shares. Many radio-television issues were lower, and minus signs dotted the chemicals, and motors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 30 cents at $107. It was down 40 cents Tuesday. The industrial and railroad components of the average each were up 40 cents while the utilities held unchanged.

Volume amounted to 1,250,000 shares, the same as Wednesday. The total is below the daily average so far this year.

The American Stock Exchange was mostly higher with trading at 360,000 shares as compared with 330,000 shares traded Tuesday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Utilities declined and most industrials advanced in an irregular corporate bond market Wednesday. Railroads were nearly a balance of small grains and losses.

U. S. government bonds were steady to up a quarter of a point.

"Big Board" volume climbed to $3,560,000 par value, compared with $3,410,000 Tuesday. But the corporate list continued its erratic pattern of previous sessions this week. Profit taking was evident among some utilities which have gained several points since September. High grade industrials improved. Convertibles were generally steady. Prices did not fluctuate as much as two points in either direction.

Police Nab Youths For Grocery Store, Resident Robberies

Two Lincoln teenagers, both boys, are awaiting action by juvenile court Friday as a result of their actions in breaking into a Lincoln grocery store and two private homes.

The youths admitted to police the burglary of $150 worth of cigarets and $25 in candy from the Bradfield Grocery at 2780 South St. They also admitted the theft of a rifle, pistol, and a jar of pennies from the Irvin Pivonka residence at 2424 So. 34th, and the burglary of $30 from the Frank Vavrick residence at 2430 Colonial Dr.

Both boys were picked up by Dects. Bob Sawdon and Bob Butcher as they came to pick up their loot which had been hidden behind some pine trees in Antelope Park. Police had discovered the cache.

Soyas Hit Highs With Export Talk

CHICAGO (AP)—Several new seasonal highs were battered out by soybeans on the Board of Trade Wednesday following reports the Foreign Operations Administration was considering exporting beans to West Germany.

Gains in soybeans ran to as much as four cents at one time, but these were reduced before the close. The September contract, in which trading started only this week, ended lower. But that is a month on which 1954 crop soybeans may be delivered.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ⅝ higher, corn ¾-1⅛ higher, rye 1⅛ to 2 cents higher, soybeans ½ lower to 2⅝ higher and lard $1.37 lower to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher.

This was the last day for trading in November lard and soybeans. There was a lot of liquidation in lard at the close, accounting for a drop extending to $1.37. The November soybean contract touched the seasonal high reached Monday and then eased slightly at the finish.

All the 1953 crop soybean futures came very close to hitting the $3.00 mark, the March delivery coming within ¼ cent of it. There evidently was some profit taking slightly under that figure, forcing the market back. Soybeans last sold at $3.00 on May 20.

Crude soybean oil and soybean meal firmed, which was a help to soybeans. Oil sold at 13½ to 13¾ cents a pound, up ⅛ to ¼. Meal was quoted at $62 a ton, up $1.50 to $2.00. The trade again heard the persistent rumor the Agriculture Department may raise its offering price on cottonseed oil from 14 to 15 cents a pound.

Main reason for the soybean strength, however, was a report the FOA was conferring with representatives of West Germany to dispose of American farm surpluses abroad under a program passed by the last session of Congress. This would enable foreign buyers to pay for goods with their own currencies.

A figure of 15 million dollars was mentioned in the negotiations and it was said soybeans and tobacco were the two commodities under discussion.

There wasn't much news to encourage aggressive buying in other grains.

Ammo Truck Driver Fails To Stop, Fined

A Joplin, Mo., truck driver was fined $30 in Municipal Court in Lincoln Wednesday after he failed to stop at a local port of entry and request escort for his explosives truck.

The driver was N. L. Smith, himself of Joplin, who had entered the city from Highway 77 south enroute from Kansas to the Mead Ordinance Plant.

Smith was stopped as he drove past the police station on No. 10th St., and immediately hauled into court where he pled guilty before Judge John Jacobson, explaining he "didn't see the signs." The port of entry signs on the south are located at 14th and Pioneers.

The arrest and fine were the first given under the new city ordinance governing the transportation of explosives through the city. The law was enacted after the explosion of an explosives truck near Omaha and one near Axtell, Neb.

The specific charges against Smith were that of unlawfully driving explosive material through the street, failure to stop at the port of entry, and failure to request a police escort. Smith is a driver for the Tri-State Distributing Company of Joplin.

City Welfare and Safety Director Ray Osborn said Wednesday officials of the Tri-State Company were present at a meeting in his office in which the new regulations were explained to truckers.

Tools Are Stolen

Theft of $40 worth of tools from a road patrol grader of the Abel Construction Company has been reported to the sheriff's office. The grader was parked in the vicinity of Capitol Beach, where it has been used in road construction.

Railroads, Steels Boost Up Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—A late nudge ahead from the railroads coupled with higher prices for steels Wednesday put the stock market ahead moderately.

Most of the day the market was narrowly mixed, and at the close the changes either way could be covered by a point in key areas.

A certain amount of irregularity was caused by dividend declarations and earnings statements in their impact on individual issues.

Moving higher with the railroads and steels were aircrafts, coppers, merchandising issues, and a long list of individual shares. Many radio-television issues were lower, and minus signs dotted the chemicals, and motors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 30 cents at $107. It was down 40 cents Tuesday. The industrial and railroad components of the average each were up 40 cents while the utilities held unchanged.

Volume amounted to 1,250,000 shares, the same as Wednesday. The total is below the daily average so far this year.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Utilities declined and most industrials advanced in an irregular corporate bond market Wednesday. Railroads were nearly a balance of small grains and losses.

U. S. government bonds were steady to up a quarter of a point.

"Big Board" volume climbed to $3,560,000 par value, compared with $3,410,000 Tuesday. But the corporate list continued its erratic pattern of previous sessions this week. Profit taking was evident among some utilities which have gained several points since September. High grade industrials improved. Convertibles were generally steady. Prices did not fluctuate as much as two points in either direction.

Police Nab Youths For Grocery Store, Resident Robberies

Two Lincoln teenagers, both boys, are awaiting action by juvenile court Friday as a result of their actions in breaking into a Lincoln grocery store and two private homes.

The youths admitted to police the burglary of $150 worth of cigarets and $25 in candy from the Bradfield Grocery at 2780 South St. They also admitted the theft of a rifle, pistol, and a jar of pennies from the Irvin Pivonka residence at 2424 So. 34th, and the burglary of $30 from the Frank Vavrick residence at 2430 Colonial Dr.

Both boys were picked up by Dects. Bob Sawdon and Bob Butcher as they came to pick up their loot which had been hidden behind some pine trees in Antelope Park. Police had discovered the cache.

Soyas Hit Highs With Export Talk

CHICAGO (AP)—Several new seasonal highs were battered out by soybeans on the Board of Trade Wednesday following reports the Foreign Operations Administration was considering exporting beans to West Germany.

Gains in soybeans ran to as much as four cents at one time, but these were reduced before the close. The September contract, in which trading started only this week, ended lower. But that is a month on which 1954 crop soybeans may be delivered.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ⅝ higher, corn ¾-1½ higher, rye 1½ to 2 cents higher, soybeans ½ lower to 2¾ higher and lard $1.37 lower to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher.

This was the last day for trading in November lard and soybeans. There was a lot of liquidation in lard at the close, accounting for a drop extending to $1.37. The November soybean contract touched the seasonal high reached Monday and then eased slightly at the finish.

All the 1953 crop soybean futures came very close to hitting the $3.00 mark, the March delivery coming within ¼ cent of it. There evidently was some profit taking slightly under that figure, forcing the market back. Soybeans last sold at $3.00 on May 20.

Crude soybean oil and soybean meal firmed, which was a help to soybeans. Oil sold at 13½ to 13¾ cents a pound, up ⅛ to ¼. Meal was quoted at $62 a ton, up $1.50 to $2.00. The trade again heard the persistent rumor the Agriculture Department may raise its offering price on cottonseed oil from 14 to 15 cents a pound.

Main reason for the soybean strength, however, was a report the FOA was conferring with representatives of West Germany to dispose of American farm surpluses abroad under a program passed by the last session of Congress. This would enable foreign buyers to pay for goods with their own currencies.

A figure of 15 million dollars was mentioned in the negotiations and it was said soybeans and tobacco were the two commodities under discussion.

There wasn't much news to encourage aggressive buying in other grains.

Engineering Meeting Told Efficiency Aspects

The practical aspects of engineering efficiency were explained by Lawrence D. Miles of Schenectady, N. Y., manager of value analysis unit of General Electric, at the sixth annual Sigma Tau engineers' convocation at the University of Nebraska Student Union.

All engineering classes were dismissed for the convocation. Miles, who received his bachelor of science degree from the University in 1931, concentrated on the non-academic problems the students will face in beginning their careers.

'Pie In Face' Brings $8, Sorority Group $85, In NU Charity Auction

A pie in the face is worth $8. But a pledge class of pretty Pi Beta Phi sorority girls is slightly more expensive—$85.

At least that is what each brought in the annual All-University Fund auction Wednesday night at the Student Union that netted a total of $1,500, a new record.

Rock Yapp, president of the AUF, said that it exceeds last year's auction by nearly $500. More than 750 people attended.

A sweating autioneer, Bob Bachman, sold 49 different groups of persons and things.

And a new queen was crowned. Cathy Olds of Omaha, a sophomore in the arts and science college, was presented as the Activities Queen.

She is a member of University Builders, AUF, Alpha Lambda Delta, French Club and Delta Gamma sorority.

Other candidates for the queen were: Suzy Good of 4245 South Street, Sharon Mangold of Bennington, Janet Lindquist of Funk and Carol Thompson of Omaha.

The lusty auctioneer sold the right to place any material in the back page of The Nebraskan, the campus newspaper for $25 and the presentation of the winning Kosmet Klub skit at any time for $37.50.

The University of Nebraska Varsity football squad was also sold as was [illegible] Kosmet Rex Fisher, NU player, who was sold as a date. Fisher upped the price on himself when he said "I'll throw a lot of passes." He was immediately bought by a group of sorority gals.

One girl, a Kappa Kappa Gamma, became so excited she bid twice against herself.

Engineering Meeting Told Efficiency Aspects

The practical aspects of engineering efficiency were explained by Lawrence D. Miles of Schenectady, N. Y., manager of value analysis unit of General Electric, at the sixth annual Sigma Tau engineers' convocation at the University of Nebraska Student Union.

All engineering classes were dismissed for the convocation. Miles, who received his bachelor of science degree from the University in 1931, concentrated on the non-academic problems the students will face in beginning their careers.

Omahan Is NU Activities Queen

'Pie In Face' Brings $8, Sorority Group $85, In NU Charity Auction

A pie in the face is worth $8. But a pie for sorority girls is slightly more expensive—$85.

At least that is what each brought in the annual All-University Fund auction Wednesday night at the Student Union that netted a total of $1,500, a new record.

Rock Yapp, president of the AUF, said that it exceeds last year's auction by nearly $500. More than 750 people attended.

A sweating autioneer, Bob Bachman, sold 49 different groups of persons and things.

She is a member of University Builders, AUF, Alpha Lambda Delta, French Club and Delta Gamma sorority.

Other candidates for the queen were: Suzy Good of 4245 South Street, Sharon Mangold of Bennington, Janet Lindquist of Funk and Carol Thompson of Omaha.

The lusty auctioneer sold the right to place any material in the back page of The Nebraskan, the campus newspaper for $25 and the presentation of the winning Kosmet Klub skit at any time for $37.50.

The University of Nebraska Varsity football squad was also sold as was [illegible] Kosmet Rex Fisher, NU player, who was sold as a date. Fisher upped the price on himself when he said "I'll throw a lot of passes." He was immediately bought by a group of sorority gals.

One girl, a Kappa Kappa Gamma, became so excited she bid twice against herself.

Ak-Sar-Ben Slates $50,000 In Fair Improvement Plan

OMAHA (AP) — Ak-Sar-Ben, the Omaha civic organization, will make up to $50,000 available in the next year for permanent improvements at Nebraska county fairs.

Ak-Sar-Ben President W. D. Lane said the organization will donate up to $500 toward a permanent improvement at any county fair which is willing to match the organization's donation.

The program will be financed from receipts from Ak-Sar-Ben's annual race meeting here. The grants will not be made to counties where race meets are being conducted on the assumption fairs there are already beneficiaries of the racing program.

Lancaster County School Redistricting Program Orderly, Voluntary—Turner

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

School redistricting in Lancaster County has been neither rapid nor slow, but the reorganization that has been done has been on a voluntary basis.

Turner

"While I'm a proponent of school redistricting," said County Superintendent Glenn Turner, "the job is best handled on a voluntary and democratic basis even if progress is somewhat slower."

However, Turner points out that county's present 118 school districts represent a reduction of 10 districts, including five high school districts, since 1948.

Three district consolidations have been accomplished by petition since 1950, the most recent of which was District 127 which operated their own school house last year, but joined District 66 this June.

'About Average'

Twenty-six of the county's 106 rural elementary districts, or about one-fourth, are presently contracting with other districts for pupil instruction, according to Turner, who believes "this is about the average over the state."

However, under a law passed by the 1953 Legislature the county superintendent is to effect a consolidation of those districts who contract for instruction for five consecutive years.

Under Statute 79-486, the 26 districts for which a consolidation would be effected for the 1958-59 school year if they continue to contract are Districts 10, 14, 16, 18, 33, 37, 40, 41, 46, 48, 49, 60, 71, 78, 85, 91, 94, 97, 106, 115, 116, 133, 134, 140 and 143.

While the method of consolidation is left to the county superintendent, Turner says his policy will be "to let residents of the districts effected decide how they wish to consolidate."

One district may elect to join with another district, he explained, but there was a recent incident where a closing district elected to divide in consolidating with five other districts.

Future Merging

Of the 118 school districts, 12 are rural high school districts. Turner believes there will be some future merging of these high school districts and that the county could be served well by only four.

Under another 1953 statute, District No. 141 located seven miles northwest of Hallam, has been notified they must consolidate with another district at the end of this school year.

Statute 79-420 provides that a district which does not maintain a school or contract for instruction must be dissolved after one year.

The district with a school census of five persons (between ages of 5 and 21 years) apparently does not have any children to send or else they attend a parochial school, Turner said.

Not Urgent

While redistricting has not been as rapid in Lancaster as in some other counties, Turner believes the need has not been as urgent here as elsewhere. His reasoning is this:

1. The valuations of the school districts in Lancaster County are high. There is no particular financial distress in any district.
2. Teacher supply in the county has been very good; there has been no real shortage. Lincoln has been a good supply source of teachers—wives of graduate students at the University of Nebraska and former teachers, who now that their children have reached high school age, have returned to teaching.

Running down the list of teachers, Turner pointed out that probably half or more of the rural teachers live in Lincoln.

3. Good roads in the county. Neither the pupil nor the teacher walks to the school house. Teachers and superintendents of several rural high schools live in Lincoln and drive 15-20 miles to their school district. One Lincoln teacher commutes 22 miles to her schoolhouse at Firth, near the Lancaster-Gage County line

Plans Commission Briefed On Duties Under New Law

The City Planning Commission has been briefed by Eldrich Lovelace of Harland Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis, Mo., on its duties under the new zoning ordinance.

The new ordinance places the Commission in a more powerful position from a zoning point of view. Among the Commission's duties will now be the responsibility of recommending to the City Council what action should be taken on all requests for zoning changes.

This responsibility was previously in the hands of the Zoning Board of Appeals which was dissolved by the new ordinance. Still to be set up under the new ordinance is a Zoning Board of Adjustments which will handle changes in requirements or relaxatioins of restrictions such as set backs, facing of lots, etc.

The Commission held up approval of the final plat of Stuhr's subdivision between 50th and 52nd from L to N. Details of a drainage area through the subdivisions must still be worked out.

Approved was the vacation of the alley between Franklin and Oldham from 55th to 56th, the vacation of 9th from High to the Burlington right-of-way and 35 feet of Monroe west of the Rock Island tracks.

Lancaster County School Redistricting Program Orderly, Voluntary—Turner

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

School redistricting in Lancaster County has been neither rapid nor slow, but the reorganization that has been done has been on a voluntary basis.

Turner

"While I'm a proponent of school redistricting," said County Superintendent Glenn Turner, "the job is best handled on a voluntary and democratic basis even if progress is somewhat slower."

However, Turner points out that county's present 118 school districts represent a reduction of 10 districts, including five high school districts, since 1948.

Three district consolidations have been accomplished by petition since 1950, the most recent of which was District 127 which operated their own school house last year, but joined District 68 this June.

'About Average'

Twenty-six of the county's 106 rural elementary districts, or about one-fourth, are presently contracting with other districts for pupil instruction, according to Turner, who believes "this is about the average over the state."

However, under a law passed by the 1953 Legislature the county superintendent is to effect a consolidation of those districts who contract for instruction for five consecutive years.

Under Statute 79-486, the 26 districts for which a consolidation would be effected for the 1958-59 school year if they continue to contract are Districts 10, 14, 16, 18, 33, 37, 40, 41, 46, 48, 49, 60, 71, 78, 85, 91, 94, 97, 106, 115, 116, 133, 134, 140 and 143.

While the method of consolidation is left to the county superintendent, Turner says his policy will be "to let residents of the districts effected decide how they wish to consolidate."

One district may elect to join with another district, he explained, but there was a recent incident where a closing district elected to divide in consolidating with five other districts.

Future Merging

Of the 118 school districts, 12 are rural high school districts. Turner believes there will be some future merging of these high school districts and that the county could be served well by only four.

Under another 1953 statute, District No. 141 located seven miles northwest of Hallam, has been notified they must consolidate with another district at the end of this school year.

Statute 79-420 provides that a district which does not maintain a school or contract for instruction must be dissolved after one year.

The district with a school census of five persons (between ages of 5 and 21 years) apparently does not have any children to send or else they attend a parochial school, Turner said.

Not Urgent

While redistricting has not been as rapid in Lancaster as in some other counties, Turner believes the need has not been as urgent here as elsewhere. His reasoning is this:

1. The valuations of the school districts in Lancaster County are high. There is no particular financial distress in any district.

2. Teacher supply in the county has been very good; there has been no real shortage. Lincoln has been a good supply source of teachers—wives of graduate students at the University of Nebraska and former teachers, who now that their children have reached high school age, have returned to teaching.

Running down the list of teachers, Turner pointed out that probably half or more of the rural teachers live in Lincoln.

3. Good roads in the county. Neither the pupil nor the teacher walks to the school house. Teachers and superintendents of several rural high schools live in Lincoln and drive 15-20 miles to their school district. One Lincoln teacher commutes 22 miles to her schoolhouse at Firth, near the Lancaster-Gage County line.

Plans Commission Briefed On Duties Under New Law

The City Planning Commission has been briefed by Eldrich Lovelace of Harland Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis, Mo., on its duties under the new zoning ordinance.

The new ordinance places the Commission in a more powerful position from a zoning point of view. Among the Commission's duties will now be the responsibility of recommending to the City Council what action should be taken on all requests for zoning changes.

This responsibility was previously in the hands of the Zoning Board of Appeals which was dissolved by the new ordinance. Still to be set up under the new ordinance is a Zoning Board of Adjustments which will handle changes in requirements or relaxatioins of restrictions such as set backs, facing of lots, etc.

The Commission held up approval of the final plat of Stuhr's subdivision between 50th and 52nd from L to N. Details of a drainage area through the subdivisions must still be worked out.

Approved was the vacation of the alley between Franklin and Oldham from 55th to 56th, the vacation of 9th from High to the Burlington right-of-way and 35 feet of Monroe west of the Rock Island tracks.
